How to Obtain an Absentee Ballot:

Any registered voter who cannot vote in person may apply directly to his county auditor or department of elections for an absentee ballot. Any signed request containing the necessary information will be honored. For your convenience, an application is reproduced below. The addresses of the auditors or departments of election are also listed below. In order to be certain that the voters' application is authentic, the election laws require that the signature on the application be verified by comparison with the signature on the voter's permanent registration record. For this reason, if a husband and wife both wish to vote by absentee ballot, separate, signed requests should be submitted. An additional absentee ballot request form can be found on the inside back cover of this pamphlet. In order to be counted, an absentee ballot must be voted and postmarked no later than the day of the election. For this reason, sufficient time must be allowed for an exchange of correspondence with the county auditor or department of elections.

Introduction to the Official Voters Pamphlet

Dear Citizen,

On November 2 you will be asked to help decide the fate of numerous national, state, and local offices, as well as five state ballot measures. This voters pamphlet is sent to you and all other residents of Washington State to assist you in making informed decisions.

The first section of the pamphlet contains the official ballot titles and explanatory statements as prepared by the Attorney General, for each state measure. Statements "for" and "against" and rebuttal statements for each measure have been prepared in cooperation with both the opponents and proponents of these measures, as prescribed by law.

The center section of this publication, bordered in red, constitutes the Official Candidates Pamphlet.

As Secretary of State of the State of Washington, I certify that the text of each proposed measure, ballot title, explanatory statement, statement for and against, and rebuttal statement which appears in this pamphlet, is a true and correct copy of the original document filed in my office. Witness my hand and the seal of the State of Washington.

Initiative Measure 325

TO THE PEOPLE

Official Ballot Title:

Shall future nuclear power facilities which do not meet certain conditions and receive two-thirds approval by the legislature be prohibited?

The Law as it now exists:

Nuclear power plant locations are now approved by the governor, acting upon a formal application and after recommendation by the Energy Facility Site Evaluation Council. That Council is comprised of representatives of several state agencies, as well as representatives of counties and port districts within which the proposed power

Statement for

Permits Nuclear Power

A yes vote on Initiative 325 permits nuclear power, but only when it is needed. And it assures that when new plants are built, they will be safe. More importantly, Initiative 325 takes nuclear decisions away from bureaucrats and utility officials and places that responsibility in the hands of our elected representatives — where it belongs.

Assures Abundant Low Cost Electricity

Initiative 325 exempts Washington's existing nuclear plant and allows three nuclear plants just now beginning construction to be completed, adding to our current 30% surplus.

Since nuclear power costs over ten times as much as present sources, overbuilding means that we pay and we take the risks, while others get surplus power. Initiative 325 requires that the need for such additional power be shown before further plants are built.

Insures Plant Safety

Initiative 325 requires plant operators to demonstrate proved methods of dealing with deadly radioactive waste material and other safety aspects which are, to date, largely untested.

Plugs A Liability Loophole

Your insurance policies specifically exclude protection from any losses due to a nuclear accident. A federally-approved loophole limits any liability of nuclear plant operators. Initiative 325 plugs that loophole and requires full financial responsibility, just as for any other business.

Prevents Premature Expansion

Seattle's exhaustive "Energy 1990" study revealed that additional plants were not needed there for at least 20 years. A City Council member summed up Seattle's decision: "It (nuclear power) costs too much and we don't need it." Initiative 325 asks that a similar analysis be made statewide. The citizens of Washington must be assured a safe, economical energy future.

Vote Yes on Initiative 325

Rebuttal of Statement against

The "ban" claims are FALSE:

- 1) Federal liability limits need only be waived;
- 2) Safety test facilities already exist;
- 3) New and old plants at Hanford are not affected;
- 4) After 2 years for thorough review and assessment, the legislature may alter any provision by a simple majority.

Nuclear economics are BAD:

- 1) Domestic nuclear fuel is scarce; import costs will be high;
- 2) Many more jobs are provided by conservation, with lower electricity rates as well.

Voters' Pamphlet Statement Prepared by:

ED HEAVEY, Attorney, Seattle; GEORGE FALKNER, M.D., Walla Walla; and DR. PETER LAURITZEN, Professor of Electrical Engineering, University of Washington.

Advisory Committee: MARILYN STANTON, Spokane City Council; DR. VICTOR COOK, Professor of Physics, University of Washington; ROBERT T. LAMSON, Aviation and Engineering Consultant, Mercer Island; and DR. RUTH WEINER, Dean, Huxley College, Bellingham.

plant would be located. If the governor approves the site, a binding agreement is then entered into between the state and the plant operator. The agreement may contain conditions on the construction and operation of the plant.

The location and use of other facilities for the manufacture, transportation, reprocessing, storage and disposal of radioactive and chemically toxic materials is initially subject to zoning and business licensing requirements imposed by local and state law. The licensing of such facilities, for health and safety purposes, is handled directly by the United States Nuclear Regulatory Commission or by the state pursuant to agreement with the federal government as authorized by the Atomic Energy Act of 1954.

The effect of Initiative 325, if approved into Law:

The initiative would permit construction and operation of future nuclear power plants or other nuclear facilities described in the preceding paragraph only when the legislature, by a two-thirds vote in each house, has made a number of determinations based upon recommended findings of the state Energy Facility Site Evaluation Council. Those findings must include:

First, that safety systems in any plant or facility will be effective, as demonstrated through actual testing of similar systems;

Second, that radioactive and chemically toxic wastes from nuclear plants can be stored or discarded without risk of escape or diversion; and,

Third, that there is a need for power from a nuclear plant (that is, the power is not available from another source) and the operation of such a plant is the best use to which the land in question could be put.

Thereafter, approval of plants and other nuclear facilities by the Energy Facility Site Evaluation Council would be further conditioned upon waiver or removal of limitations upon liability for injury or property loss which are presently imposed by federal law.

Prior to making its recommended findings to the legislature, the Energy Facility Site Evaluation Council would hold public hearings throughout the state and solicit opinions from experts and interested parties.

The initiative would also provide new procedures for the publication, dissemination and review of local evacuation plans for communities in the vicinity of nuclear fission power plants.

NOTE: The ballot title and explanatory statement were written by the Attorney General as required by state law. The complete text of Initiative Measure 325 begins on Page 16.

Statement against

The nuclear electricity generating option dies in Washington if 325 passes. 325 establishes conditions which cannot be met for new nuclear plants, cancels four plants under development and jeopardizes the steam plant at Hanford.

Everybody is for safety — but 325 doesn't make nuclear electricity safe — it makes it impossible.

Everybody is for conservation — but 325 doesn't conserve anything — it bans nuclear electricity and forces greater use of our non-renewable resources — oil, gas and coal — for electricity generation.

Everybody is for national security — but 325 forces greater reliance on foreign countries on which we already depend for 43% of our oil.

Everybody is for more jobs and less unemployment — but electrical energy and jobs go hand-in-hand . . . 325 would assure that within ten years we would have fewer jobs in relation to population and greater unemployment than today.

Everybody is for strictly regulating nuclear electrical generating plants — but today there are 31 state and federal regulatory agencies involved in regulating the licensing and safe operation of such plants — 325 doesn't regulate, it bans nuclear development.

Ban No. 1 (Section 6-1-a): No plant can be built until current federal insurance laws are changed.

Ban No. 2 (Section 6-1-b): No license to build can be issued until a plant is first built, operated and tested!

Ban No. 3 (Section 6-2-b and c): Stops four plants under development and probably stops operation of Hanford's steam plant.

Ban No. 4 (Section 8-1): Lets 17 legislators ban nuclear when 130 others approve it.

BAN THE BAN THAT'S BAD FOR PEOPLE — VOTE NO AGAINST INITIATIVE 325

Rebuttal of Statement for

Not one of the proponents' 5 basic views is supported by facts or by any public agency of the U. S. Government, Washington State government or local governments within Washington State.

Local university nuclear scientists, spokesmen for the Environmental Protection Agency, Federal Energy Administration, Bonneville Power Administration, State Public Utility Districts' Association, State Sportsmen's Council, Farm Bureau, Grange, State Labor Council and 46 local Chambers of Commerce all oppose Initiative 325 because it bans nuclear electricity.

Statement for

Let's Improve Our Disclosure Law

In 1972, Washington voters overwhelmingly agreed political candidates and elected officials should report their personal finances. Recent events have shown that many national officials had financial holdings which could interfere with their judgment on public issues.

Appointed officials — who have daily responsibility for millions of taxpayer dollars — were not covered by Initiative 276. Wouldn't it serve the public better to know if a director of a state agency has significant ties to a special interest? Passage of Referendum 36 will make such information available.

Congress has recognized the seriousness of this problem by giving high priority to major bills covering federal appointees.

Who Will Be Covered?

Referendum 36 will apply to major state department directors, regents and trustees of state higher education institutions, members of major decision-making commissions and their chief executives, and professional staff of the Governor and Legislature.

Appointed officials have as much influence on the operations of state government as elected officials. In many cases, they have greater financial responsibility by controlling state spending, so they should be even more free from conflicting financial loyalties.

How About Other States?

Thirty-eight states now have some form of disclosure legislation. Washington is the one state which applies disclosure provisions only to elected officials, but not to appointed officials. Clearly, other states have recognized that financial disclosure is equally important for people who make decisions involving large sums of the taxpayers' money. We must close this gap now.

Official Ballot Title:

Shall certain appointed state officers be required to file reports of their financial affairs with the Public Disclosure Commission?

The Law as it now exists:

Most candidates for and holders of elective offices are required under present law to file with the State Public Disclosure Commission, annually or after becoming candidates or officeholders, detailed reports of their own and their immediate families' financial affairs for the preceding year. This requirement does not now apply to appointed state officers.

Rebuttal of Statement against

The opponents assume citizens will not accept public service because of financial disclosure requirements. This is absolutely false. Quite to the contrary, 146 citizens have just filed for 15 freeholder positions in Pierce County, and are submitting the necessary forms. This should be striking proof that concerned citizens are not restrained by having to report their financial affairs.

Referendum 36 would not significantly impact the Public Disclosure Commission. The additional filings would be very minimal.

Voters' Pamphlet Statement Prepared by:

A. L. "SLIM" RASMUSSEN, State Senator; JOHN R. HAWKINS, State Representative; and JOLENE UNSOELD.

By a separate enactment, the 1976 legislature also required elected officials and candidates who hold specified interests in certain financial institutions to report either (1) every director and officer of the institution and the average monthly balance of accounts held therein by the governmental entity in which the office is held, or (2) all interest over $600 paid by borrowers and/or to depositors of the financial institution.

The effect of Referendum Bill 36, if approved into Law:

The proposed act would require numerous appointed state officers to file the same financial disclosure reports as are now required of elective officers and candidates.

The other change indicated by section 1(1)(g) of the proposed act has already been separately enacted, as noted above, and will be unaffected by the outcome of this election.

NOTE: The ballot title and explanatory statement were written by the Attorney General as required by state law. The complete text of Referendum Bill 36 begins on Page 17.

Statement against

Referendum 36 would not make government more accountable to the people as some might have us believe, but it would do two things: First, it would reduce the number of qualified citizens able to serve in non-paid or low-paid appointive positions, due to extensive reporting requirements, and second, it would severely impact the already over-worked Public Disclosure Commission, making the Commission's job of ensuring the accountability of elected officials to their constituents virtually impossible.

With few exceptions, members of state boards and commissions, who serve voluntarily for little or no pay, and appointed heads of state agencies are named to their positions by elected officials. It is up to these elected officials to ensure that persons appointed by them do not have conflicts of interest. The elected officials must account to the public for any detriment to the public interest caused by actions of those whom they appoint.

Those who sponsored this measure in the Legislature knew that the Legislature has consistently refused to support adequate funding of the Public Disclosure Commission needed to carry out the responsibilities set forth in Initiative 276 (the Public Disclosure Act). Adding more responsibility and paperwork without funds to accompany them is not a method of ensuring accountability to the public, but is a blatant attempt to reduce that accountability.

Don't allow the Public Disclosure Act to be weakened by an ill-conceived and thinly-disguised "Trojan Horse."

Rebuttal of Statement for

THE STATEMENT FOR MISSES THE POINT

This proposal will dilute the present Public Disclosure Law's effectiveness, NOT improve it. Referendum 36 will discourage VOLUNTARY public service on boards and commissions and will require more tax dollars as volunteers are replaced by BUREAUCRATS. Appointed officials can advise; however, their actions are the responsibility of elected officials who already are covered by the PUBLIC DISCLOSURE LAW. Congress is notorious for giving "high priority" to issues about which it really intends to do nothing.

Senate Joint Resolution 137

PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT

Vote cast by the members of the 1976 Legislature on final passage:
HOUSE [98 members]: Yeas, 72; Nays, 23; Absent or not voting, 3.
SENATE [49 members]: Yeas, 42; Nays, 2; Absent or not voting, 5.

Official Ballot Title:

Shall the voters be permitted to approve excess levies for school support for two-year periods?

The Law as it now exists:

Article VII, § 2 of the state Constitution limits property taxes by the state and most taxing districts, including school districts, to a total of one percent of the value of the property per year. This section provides, however, that the voters, under certain specified con-

Statement for

What It Does

SJR 137 is a simple amendment to the State Constitution. If adopted by the voters, the amendment would allow school districts to run excess levies, subject to the existing 60 percent voter approval requirement, for a period of two years rather than the current one-year limitation.

Why A Two-Year Levy

Every voter has the right to vote "no" on any ballot measure; but in recent years, the school districts often have been running four elections every two years. Those elections take time and money that should be spent in the classroom. SJR 137 will put school personnel back to their jobs, rather than spending months pleading with voters to pass their levies.

Proper Planning Saves Money

The most necessary and immediate problem facing the legislature is how to provide stable revenue for schools. Districts must be able to know how much money is available so that proper planning of future expenditures can occur.

But local levies will still exist. They should be for only special purposes. And they should be for two-year periods so that elected school boards may anticipate revenue, plan accordingly, and save taxpayers' dollars.

SJR 137 Will Not Increase Levies

This amendment can only help to reduce levies, since election costs will be substantially reduced.

SJR 137 will also reduce the time and effort currently placed upon county assessors and county treasurers. Therefore, it could reduce expenditures and free important local government money.

SJR 137 will not solve all the school problems, but it will help.

Rebuttal of Statement against

The Committee advocating approval of SJR 137 chose not to prepare a rebuttal of the statement against.

Voters' Pamphlet Statement Prepared by:

ALBERT BAUER, State Representative, Democrat; FRANK B. "BUSTER" BROUILLET, Superintendent of Public Instruction; LOUIS O. STEWART, Education Director, Washington State Labor Council.

ditions, may authorize the following additional levies:

- (a) For one-year periods for any lawful purpose;
- (b) To pay principal and interest on general obligation bonds for capital purposes, throughout the life of the bonds.

The effect of Senate Joint Resolution 137, if approved into Law:

This proposed constitutional amendment would provide for an exception to the one-year limit on excess levies in the case of levies for the support of common schools only. The amendment would allow such excess levies to be approved by the voters for two-year periods.

NOTE: The ballot title and explanatory statement were written by the Attorney General as required by state law. The complete text of Senate Joint Resolution 137 begins on Page 18.

Statement against

Voters Previously Rejected This Amendment

In 1962, the voters of this state defeated SJR 1, which would have authorized multi-year levies. Why, then, would the Legislature resubmit an issue that the voters had already rejected?

Legislative Priorities Were Confused

The answer lies in the fact that the Legislature was besieged by a combination of educator strikes, highly vocal school boards, increasingly militant teacher unions, and frustrated taxpayers. It felt compelled to do something — anything — to appear responsive to the various pressures. Its "response" involved actions such as raising the sales tax, raising the B & O tax, and passing token measures like SJR 137.

Bigger, More Complicated Levies

Although this Constitutional amendment probably would facilitate the operations of the good school boards, it would also play into the hands of the bad ones. The larger two-year budgets would be more complicated making it easier to hide unnecessary items. Some school boards would take advantage of the confusion surrounding the introduction of the new two-year levy to include costly expenditures previously rejected by the voters.

What We Really Need

A "no" vote on SJR 137 is a vote for better priorities. We don't want tokenism, increased taxes, or high special levies. We do want a sound, well-defined system of basic education.

Rebuttal of Statement for

SJR 137 WILL INCREASE LEVIES. Obviously, a two-year levy is going to be bigger than a one-year levy. The real question is, will it also be bigger when adjusted to an annual basis? Taxpayers should beware that any small savings cited by the proponents may be more than offset by the loss of annual local control and by the larger, more complicated expenditures hidden within the bigger levies.

Voters' Pamphlet Statement Prepared by:

KENT PULLEN, State Senator, Republican; and WILLIAM "BILL" SCHUMAKER, State Representative, Republican.

Senate Joint Resolution 139

PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT

Vote cast by the members of the 1976 Legislature on final passage:
HOUSE [98 members]: Yeas, 66; Nays, 17; Absent or not voting, 15.
SENATE [49 members]: Yeas, 39; Nays, 2; Absent or not voting, 8.

Statement for

The Constitution prohibits any salary increase for a legislator from taking effect during the term which the member was serving at the time the increase was granted. This prohibition discriminates against those Senators whose terms are only half completed.

The proposed amendment would allow all members of the Senate to receive a salary increase previously adopted by both houses of the Legislature and signed by the Governor.

All members of the House of Representatives are elected for two-year terms. Therefore, all members of the House will receive a salary increase in January, 1977. However, because Senators are elected to four-year terms, and only one-half of the Senate stands for reelection every two years, those Senators not standing for reelection this year cannot receive their salary increase until January, 1979. Are the responsibilities or the workload any less demanding for those Senators who are presently prohibited from receiving the salary increase? Should not there be equal pay for equal work? Is it fair that, in effect, tax-paying constituents of those Senators presently ineligible for the salary increase should be subsidizing a higher salary for those Senators not representing their district? Should pure chance (in other words, whether or not a Senator is standing for reelection) determine if he or she is eligible for a salary increase?

Let us use common sense and eliminate a discriminatory prohibition based on factors irrelevant to the responsibilities of serving the public.

Official Ballot Title:

Shall any increase or decrease in the salaries of state legislators become effective for all legislators at the same time?

The Law as it now exists:

At the present time, the state Constitution prohibits a legislator from receiving a salary increase or decrease during his current term of office. Thus, no member of a legislature by which an increase in legislative pay is enacted may receive that increase unless he or she is reelected.

Rebuttal of Statement against

Reasonable expense reimbursement, personal campaign expenses and the minimal services provided for legislators are all totally irrelevant to the issue. SJR 139 eliminates a prohibition that discriminates against those Senators whose terms are only half completed. This issue is simply one of equal pay for equal work. Cooperation among members of the legislature is not enhanced when there is a difference in pay for the same work done.

Voters' Pamphlet Statement Prepared by:

GORDON L. WALGREN, State Senator; JOHN BAGNARIOL, State Representative; and JOLENE UNSOELD.

Because state senators serve staggered four-year terms, those senators who are reelected at the next election after the enactment of the salary increase, together with all state representatives, will receive the increased salary two years earlier than will those senators not then up for reelection.

The effect of Senate Joint Resolution 139, if approved into Law:

Substitute Senate Joint Resolution No. 139 would cause an increase or decrease in salary to become effective for all members of the legislature at the same time. The effective date of a pay increase would, however, continue to be delayed until the expiration of the current terms of all state representatives and one half of the state senators.

NOTE: The ballot title and explanatory statement were written by the Attorney General as required by state law. The complete text of Senate Joint Resolution 139 begins on Page 19.

Statement against

Your Vote Can Save $193,146

Voters can save themselves $193,146 by voting against SJR 139. That is the cost of paying holdover senators the additional salary permitted by this proposal. All legislators know their salary when they run for office. It's the "contract" they agreed to accept.

Legislators Per Diem Averaged Over $8,000.

In addition to annual salary, legislators receive $40 per diem for each day spent for legislative sessions (Legislators were in session over 200 days, thus received $8,000-plus). Legislators also are allowed $50 a month expenses when they are not in session, plus substantial postage allowances, telephone services and some secretarial services.

Less Campaign Expenses For Senators With 4-Year Terms.

All house members and half the senators must be reelected before they receive the pay raise voted by them. This should be required for the rest of the senators. By having to campaign only every 4 years, senators save from $3,000 to $10,000 campaign expenses.

Regain Public Confidence

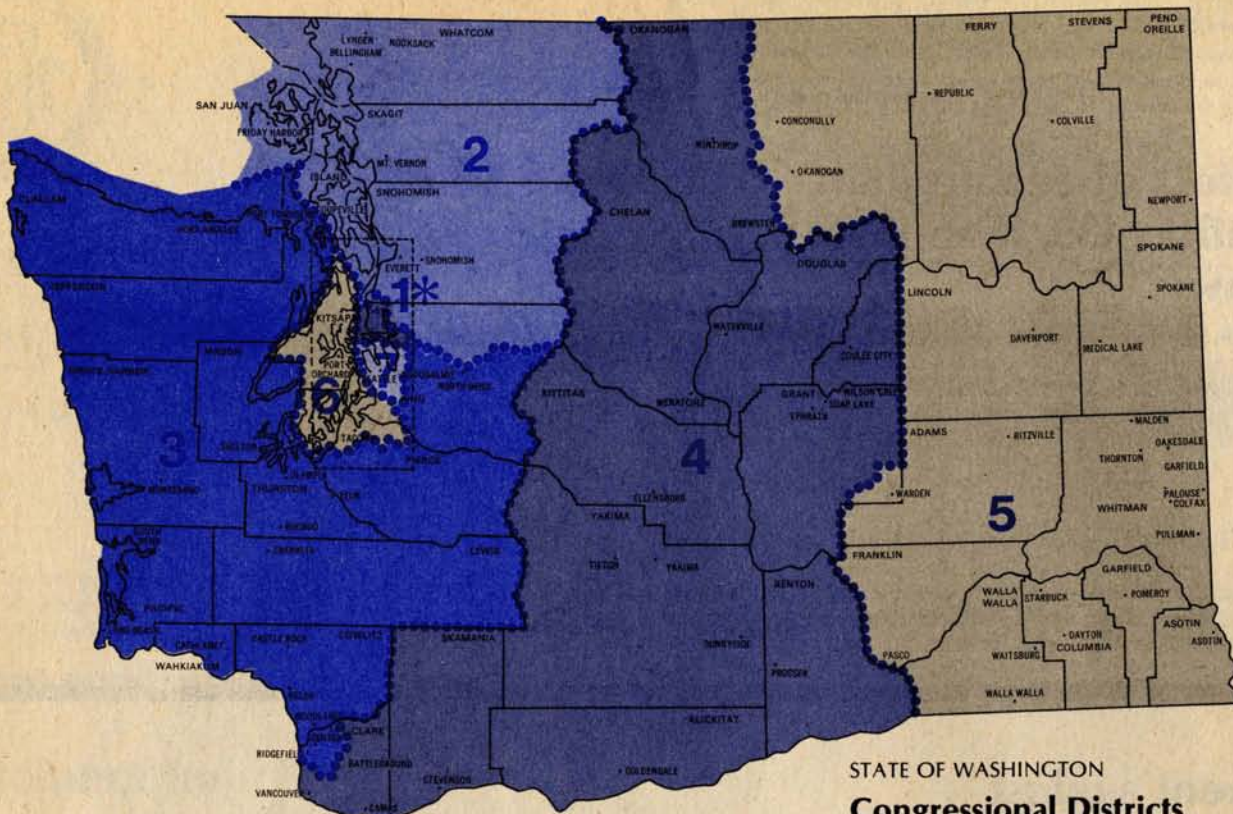

Wise present constitutional protection against self-interest votes on pay should be maintained. Holdover senators can help regain public confidence. Credibility of the legislature may be improved if voters know that officials will stand for election regarding their own salary increases. Would senators prefer to run for reelection every two years? (That may be a better constitutional proposal than SJR 139). Let's reject SJR 139 and save nearly $200,000.

Rebuttal of Statement for Change the constitution for exclusive benefit of 24 Senators? Change the contract by which Senators were elected to serve 4-year terms? Remove the opportunity of some Senators to practice economy in use of state dollars with a modest sacrifice for a 2-year period? Senators could eliminate "discrimination" by running for office every 2 years. Do they prefer this? Let's leave the constitution alone. Vote No on SJR 139.

President and Vice-President of the United States

Gerald R.
FORD
and Robert
DOLE
Republican

During his two years as President, Gerald R. Ford has demonstrated leadership, honesty, and courage in dealing with the Nation's problems. President Ford's policies have brought peace to the United States, led the economy out of recession into recovery, and restored trust and confidence in the Office of the President. Inflation has been cut more than half, and four million more Americans are at work than at the bottom of the recession. Abroad, the Ford policy of peace through strength has brought new respect for the United States.

President Ford believes that America's greatest challenge for its third century is to advance individual freedom. The President has said, "The mandate I want in 1976 is to make the vision of free men and free women enjoying limited government and unlimited opportunity a reality. It is not the power and the glamor of the Presidency that leads me to ask for another four years. It is something every hard-working American will understand—the challenge of a job well begun, but far from finished."

President Ford, speaking to all Americans in August, said, "We will build on performance, not promises; experience, not expediency; real progress instead of mysterious plans to be revealed in some dim and distant future. I ask not only for your prayers, but also for your strength and your support, for your voice and for your vote. I come before you with a two year record of performance, without your mandate. I offer you a four-year pledge of greater performance with your mandate."

Jimmy
and Walter
MONDALE
Democrat

America is at the brink of a new opportunity. Even after the sobering events of recent years, we have a reason for inspiration and hope. For throughout our history, our nation has been sustained by two factors: the inherent greatness of the American people, and a system of government that has endured 200 years.

We can look forward to a government that is open and responsive again. A government that is concerned with the needs of all. We have the desire and the knowledge to achieve these goals. We now need the executive leadership with vision and compassion and ability to direct us. Jimmy Carter and Walter Mondale will provide that leadership.

The test of any government is not how popular it is with the powerful, but how honestly and fairly it deals with the many who must depend on it. We must have a government that recognizes and alleviates our needs in health care, education, housing, unemployment, aid to the elderly, environmental protection, and others. A government that recognizes the need for a coherent agricultural policy that insures farmers a predictable and fair return for their labor, yet is fair to the American consumer. A government that is open, efficient, economical, purposeful, and manageable.

There is nothing wrong with our country that strong, competent, compassionate government can't change. There is no reason why our government can't be open and responsible. Jimmy Carter and Walter Mondale are leaders, for a change.

"Eugene McCarthy's mission is to do whatever a gifted and honest man can do to stop the rot in the American political system." —Walter Lippman, 1967.

The Democratic and Republican Parties are beginning to pay the penalties of incompetence. We have had a bipartisan war, bipartisan economic failures, and abuse of the Bill of Rights under both parties. The parties have become ends in themselves, rather than means through which people can express themselves and get policies changed.

Eugene McCarthy is running for President as a independent candidate, tied to neither party.

McCarthy has farmed, taught high school and college, written seven books and many articles, and served 10 years in the House of Representatives and 12 years in the Senate, where he worked in the Finance, Foreign Relations, and Agriculture Committees. As a Congressman, McCarthy supported civil rights and civil liberties during the witch hunts of the 1950's; called for proper supervision of the CIA as early as 1954; began efforts to aid migrant farm workers in 1951; and was the first Senator to sponsor the Equal Rights Amendment.

In 1968, he challenged Lyndon Johnson on the Vietnam war, took his case to the people in the presidential primaries, and did more than any other public figure to turn America around on the war. Senator Wayne Morse observed then that McCarthy "has never trimmed his sails for expediency's sake, nor abandoned a worthy cause because it encountered hard going."

Here are McCarthy's ideas on the economy: "To combat inflation, I advocate selective credit controls, limited and conditional wage/price controls, and an end to inflationary spending in the automobile industry and in military and space programs. We can and must scale down defense costs (and the space program) to save about $20 to $30 billion per annum. This, together with savings of about $80 or $90 billion by a gradual change in the character of our transportation system, away from the waste represented by the kind of automobiles now being built and the amount and cost of the fuel they consume, gives you some $100 billion. This could build houses, reconstruct cities, improve our health care and educational systems."

Socialism is the collective ownership by all the people of the factories, mills, railroads, land and all other instruments of production. Socialism means production to satisfy human needs, not as under capitalism, for sale and profit. Socialism means direct control and management of the industries and social services by the workers through a democratic government based on their nationwide economic organization.

Under socialism, all authority will originate from the workers, integrally united in socialist industrial unions. In each workplace, the rank and file will elect whatever committees or representatives are needed to facilitate production. Within each shop or office division of a plant, the rank and file will participate directly in formulating and implementing all plans necessary for efficient operations.

Besides electing all necessary shop officers, the workers will also elect representatives to a local and national council of their industry or service—and to a central congress representing all the industries and services. This all-industrial congress will plan and coordinate production in all areas of the economy.

All persons elected to any post in the socialist government, from the lowest to the highest level, will be directly accountable to the rank and file. They will be subject to removal at any time that a majority of those who elected them decide it is necessary. Such a system would make possible the fullest democracy and freedom. It would be a society based on the most primary freedom—economic freedom.

For individuals, socialism means an end to economic insecurity and exploitation. It means workers cease to be commodities bought and sold on the labor market, and forced to work as appendages to tools owned by someone else. It means a chance to develop all individual capacities and potentials within a free community of free individuals. It means a classless society that guarantees full democratic rights for all workers.

Lester Maddox is America's leading crusader for constitutional government, free enterprise, right to own and control your private property. He alone stands out as the candidate who practices what he preaches, demanding honest, open, efficient and representative government. Maddox is fearless, capable, patriotic, honest and down to earth. Liberal establishment and special interests want nothing to do with Lester. He can't be bought and exposes their shady deals in and out of government. He's obligated only to the people.

Lester Maddox and his wife Virginia have four children and nine grandchildren. As Governor of Georgia he opened the office and mansion to all citizens; blacks, whites—everyone. His accomplishments increased the economy, education level, employment and business opportunity.

Among his issues: Bureaucratic growth must be brought to a screeching halt. Local representative government is being destroyed and people's rights and freedoms lost by the ever-growing socialistic power grabs of the central government. Lester opposes constant reams of legislation, would promote repealing one law for each new one. We are being legislated out of our homes, businesses, schools and freedoms.

Maddox beat Carter for Governor, with your help he can beat him again.

William Dyke, Vice Presidential candidate is compatible with the pro-American Constitutional views of Governor Maddox. As Mayor of Madison, Wisconsin, he took a firm stand quelling riotous troublemakers and protecting lives and property. Dyke states, "My choice was simple, many people are now convinced there is no real difference between the Republican and Democrat establishment. The American Independent Party offers people a choice. It's not a third party, it's the new party of the majority of Americans."

Mr. LaRouche is a leading, internationally renowned economist and presently chairman of the Labor Committees. From approximately 1958 until mid-1971 he was highly regarded as the Cassandra of the Left because of his detailed analysis of the way in which he foresaw the next world depression as developing out of a series of major monetary crises beginning during the last half of the 1960's. The post-1971 events have caused his widespread recognition as the only economist to have developed a comprehensive understanding of the current economic crisis. More recently, anti-depression proposals—exemplified by Mr. LaRouche's International Development Bank proposal—are gaining acceptance at the highest levels of policy-making in key sectors of the world.

For these and related reasons, Mr. LaRouche as President is proposed as a political figure who would bring the White House a quality of credibility among European, Japanese and Comecon leadership which would ensure rapid and effective international cooperative action to end the present world crisis.

Lyndon LaRouche was born 54 years ago in Rochester, New Hampshire, sharing with Presidents Herbert Hoover and Richard M. Nixon the ironic distinction of being raised by Quaker parents. He later resided, for two decades, in Lynn, Massachusetts, and has been a resident of New York City since 1954.

Wayne Evans, 49 years of age, has become widely known, especially throughout the Midwestern regions of the U.S. and Canada, for his role in the development of the Labor Party's growing organizing machine. In addition to organizing among both farmers and industrial workers generally, he has been active in developing essential concrete features of the Labor Party's Emergency Reconstruction programs, and exemplifies the impassioned commitment and competence for rigorous intellectual achievement which characterizes the cultured North American farmer and industrial worker.

During the '50s she founded and ran a nursery school in the south Los Angeles Black Community. Her community work drew the attention and wrath of the education establishment which closed her school for technical "violations." Since 1964 she has served as chairperson of the United Parents Council, which fights racism in public schools. She has been arrested several times in UPC actions. In 1966 she founded Women Against Repression, the first Black women's liberation organization in southern California. In 1967 she was the only woman on the Executive Board of the newly formed L.A. Black Congress. She is vice president of the Board of Directors of L.A.'s community sponsored television station KVST.

Benjamin Spock is internationally known for his outspoken stand against the Vietnam war and the draft. For many years he has spoken on the need for a new radical party and for fundamental change in America. He was the Presidential candidate of the Peoples Party in 1972.

Bicentennial Reality Party is an affiliate of a national coalition known as the People's Party. We support the general principles of the People's Party some of which are as follows: 1. The building of working class people's power toward collective control of communities and workplaces (homes, shops, factories, offices and schools). 2. Abolition of all rents, consumer debt, residential mortgages and debts of governments to banks. 3. Redistribution of wealth and land. 4. An end to all discrimination and oppression based on race, sex, sexual preference, and age. 5. The turning over of all properties of the U.S. multinational corporations in other countries to the workers and peasants of those countries; withdrawal from the more than 3,000 overseas U.S. military bases.

The people of the United States deserve better choices in public policy than those presented by the major parties. The parties presently in power and their non-socialist opposition are not offering methods that will help the people get out of the depression, meet the need for full employment, provide full legal rights for all people, protect public resources, or stop the drift toward war.

The American people should have an opportunity to choose democratic socialism. A goal of the Socialist Party is workers' control of all industry through democratic organization of the work-place, with workers making all the decisions now made by management. The Socialist Party proposes a society of free, continuing, and democratic participation through shop councils, and through councils for the management of each industry by workers and others most affected by it, including consumers. Spheres of life other than industry should also have popular control. These are the bases for democratic socialism, and can be achieved only through radical social change.

The Socialist Party supports moves toward democratic decision making whether in private or government enterprise, which genuinely limits management authority by institutionalizing power in the hands of working people and their democratic organizations.

We oppose totalitarianism in every form.

We believe that the eventual government of civilized people must be international, humanitarian, democratic, and libertarian, if our species is to survive its own future. P. O. Box 12110, Seattle 98112.

How do we meet the current situation of crisis, of decline in living standards and quality of life?

The Communist Party candidates, Gus Hall for President and Jarvis Tyner for Vice President, have a fighting program to unite the working people, the family farmers—yes, the so-called plain people—in struggle to meet the needs of the day.

A fighting program—

1. Slash the bloated military budget by 80%. 2. For jobs—cut the work week by law to 30 hours at 40 hours' pay. 3. End all cold war policies. 4. Independence for Puerto Rico. 5. Outlaw racism, which has poisoned the life of our nation. 6. Guarantee a secure future for our youth. 7. End discrimination and establish equality for women in social, political and economic life. 8. Guarantee justice to our senior citizens. 9. Make the people's health care a No. 1 priority. 10. Abolish all anti-democratic and repressive laws.

Unite against big business! Gus Hall and Jarvis Tyner say frankly: we are for socialism. Capitalism has long ago outlived its usefulness. It is a rotten, dying system that breeds war, poverty and racism.

Whether you agree with our socialist ideals or not, we call on you to join in a giant fight against big business which dominates the economic and political life of our nation.

We want to help build a powerful anti-monopoly front of labor, small farmers, small business, professionals, and cultural workers which can turn our nation to a course of peace and progress.

We say: don't stay away from the elections. Get into the fight. Exercise your right to cast the vote with the most clout—a Communist vote.

The Republicans and Democrats serve a system which makes private profits, not human needs, its top priority. The big corporations, like Boeing, Weyerhaeuser, and Lockheed, think nothing of laying off tens of thousands of workers, destroying the environment, or charging exorbitant prices — anything to make a profit. The result is record high profits, millions of unemployed and high inflation. The Democratic and Republican party politicians work to maintain this system. They serve the interests of a tiny minority, the rich, not the interests of the majority, the working people of this country.

The Socialist Workers party proposes a new Bill of Rights for Working People: (1) The right to a job; (2) Right to an adequate income, protected against inflation; (3) Right to free education; (4) Right to free medical care; (5) Right to a secure retirement; (6) Right of oppressed national minorities to control their own affairs; (7) Right to know the truth about and decide the political policies that affect our lives; (8) Right to know the truth about and decide economic and social policies.

The Socialist Workers party believes that working people can win our economic and social rights through united action. Strikes for higher wages and cost-of-living escalator provisions; rallies demanding jobs for all; demonstrations against cutbacks in education and social services; speak-outs against racist attacks; and marches for the passage of the federal Equal Rights Amendment. These are examples of struggles being waged throughout the country. We fully support and participate in these types of actions. But we don't think it makes sense to strike or demonstrate on one day and vote for the candidates of big business the next.

The Socialist Workers party is campaigning for a new society — a socialist society — where industry and science will be put at the service of the vast majority; where wars, racism, sexual oppression and all other forms of human degradation and exploitation will no longer exist. We believe that this is a realistic goal and necessary one if humanity is to survive.

What our nation needs is a new direction, a new dawn in politics. For too long we've been asking how much politicians and bureaucrats should be interfering with our businesses and lives. It's time we ask whether they should be doing it at all! Libertarian party candidates are asking this basic question.

The Libertarian party itself provides the fresh new direction politics must take if we are to preserve and enlarge our freedoms.

Libertarians offer startling and promising proposals for bringing liberty and prosperity to all Americans. The statement of Principles of the LP platform expresses the philosophy guiding these proposals:

We hold that where governments exist, they must not violate the rights of any individual: namely, (1) the right to life—accordingly we support prohibition of the initiation of physical force against others; (2) the right to liberty of speech and action—accordingly we oppose all attempts by government to abridge the freedom of speech and press, as well as government censorship in any form; and (3) the right to property—accordingly we oppose all government interference with private property, such as confiscation, nationalization, and eminent domain, and support the prohibition of robbery, trespass, fraud, and misrepresentation.

Roger MacBride has the best philosophy and the best credentials of any Presidential candidate. A graduate of Princeton and of Harvard Law School (where he was a Fulbright scholar in constitutional law), he is a former Vermont legislator, a successful businessman, and author of six books. Roger now operates a farm in Virginia. He rejects pragmatism and political expediency and instead bases his policies on an unswerving devotion to individual liberty.

Make your vote count. Vote for the candidate of the party of principle.

Airline pilot with United Air Lines for nine years. Forty years old, resident of Seattle area since 1957. Married, two teen-age children. Degree in Air Transportation from Purdue University with strong emphasis in economics. Raised on farm, engineer at Boeing for nearly ten years before joining United. Active at Boulevard Park Presbyterian Church; served as deacon and chairman of Vietnamese Resettlement Committee.

Qualifications: Extensive travel into nation's major cities gives him understanding of problems that face Washington's cities. Engineering experience is a basis for sound judgments on new military programs and new energy sources. Economics background provides capability to determine fiscal soundness of legislation. Freedom from previous political involvement allows him to judge legislation on its ethical and moral merit and to be free of control by special interest groups. His lifelong emphasis on truth, justice, dependability and responsibility will give you a man in Washington, D.C. of great integrity.

Issues: Inflation is our major problem today. A $15,000 salary buys $950 less this year than last year. To slow down inflation, federal spending must be controlled. Obsolete and wasteful government programs must be eliminated.

The presidency should be limited to a single six year term of office to avoid problems associated with campaigning for re-election. Senators should be limited to two terms and Representatives to ten years to prevent accumulation of undue power by any individual.

Greater emphasis on energy planning and conservation is mandatory. Nuclear power is our best source of additional electrical energy but safe disposal of nuclear wastes must be assured.

We must strive for equal opportunities in employment, housing and education; seek major welfare reforms; modify and update Social Security system to ensure fiscal integrity; and build a stronger defense posture in non-nuclear weapons systems. We must strive for equality and end discrimination.

Senator Jackson is the eighth ranking U.S. Senator in seniority, and in that strong position, has been a leader in great national issues, as well as in fighting to enhance the economy of Washington State and preserve its great natural beauty.

He was named the Senate's "most effective" member in a poll of Congressional assistants. And, a national Gallup Poll rated Jackson as one of the ten men in the world most admired by Americans.

He authored legislation which made possible the construction of the Alaska pipeline, bringing thousands of jobs to the people of the Northwest.

He wrote the 10-year moratorium prohibiting the export of Columbia River waters to the Southwest.

He helped win approval of the 200-mile fisheries limit, protecting the fish harvest off our coast.

He wrote the bill creating the beautiful North Cascades National Park. And, his Youth Conservation Corps has provided summer jobs for tens of thousands of teenagers across the nation.

A graduate of the University of Washington Law School, Jackson serves on the Board of Advisors of the John F. Kennedy Institute of Politics at Harvard. He is a member of the Board of Overseers at Whitman College.

Boeing, and is presently on leave from Pacific Northwest Bell where he is a project engineer. He is married and has three children.

Dave spends his spare time researching and studying American history, American government, the Constitution, political science and practical politics.

After studying the incumbent's voting records, Dave Smith submits the following facts: Senator Jackson, the ninth strongest man in the Senate, has made no significant effort to eliminate deficit spending, balance the Federal budget, stop inflation, reduce taxes or limit government growth. In fact, he has voted for many bills which have caused these problems.

Jackson has added fuel to the fire by promoting the Federal Government's taking over functions belonging to the states and the people. His "Six-point Program" calls for the Federal takeover of education, housing, welfare, health insurance, employment and municipal bonding programs. This program can only lead to further increases in inflation and taxes, and decreased economic, religious and political freedom.

By contrast, Dave Smith offers to uphold our Constitution, supporting legislation which will preserve freedom and insure that government provides protection, not controls, and which will promote the competitive free enterprise concept. Dave will strive to represent the people, not special interests, and will work to do as Senator what he promises while campaigning.

Dave Smith's program will help reduce inflation, taxes and government spending. It will increase economic, religious and political freedom by minimizing government control through application of Constitutional government. Libertarian

A moral vision — a vision of people at peace, in work, at play, in love; a vision of a world untouched by the scourge of war — is the "heart and soul" of libertarianism. The "mind" of our philosophy is a single, simple principle: That all individuals have the right to live their lives in any way that's peaceful.

A similar vision inspired the founding of our country, a vision best expressed by Jefferson's Declaration of Independence. But our government has long since ceased to pay anything save lip service to the notion of individual liberty.

Daily the chain of abuses suffered at its hands lengthens and grows heavier. We suffocate under the ever intrusive, oppressive laws and regulations guiding public policy. Both at home and abroad the American State has become a danger to, rather than a protector of, liberty and life. Yet the people still yearn for their vision of peace and prosperity under freedom.

The gulf between dream and reality can be crossed only by the bridge offered by the Libertarian Party: A fundamental change in government, away from paternalist interference and toward respect for and defense of individual rights.

Libertarian foreign policy emphasizes the need for providing adequate defenses against attack and for limiting the activity of our military to strictly defensive measures. This means we would not go to war simply because our standard of living was threatened by a politically caused rise in the price of middle east oil.

Libertarian domestic policy emphasizes both civil liberties and economic freedoms. Which means an end to harassment of homosexuals and of others whose only "crime" is being different, and an end to the innumerable restrictions upon mutual exchange and to privileges some firms are awarded over others.

A libertarian elected to the Senate means a consistent champion of peace and freedom.

During two terms in the House of Representatives Congressman Joel Pritchard has worked hard for the people of our area.

He has worked to protect our $200 million fisheries industry from foreign fishermen and helped preserve this great local and national resource through his key role in enactment of the 200 mile limit. He is a member of the House Merchant Marine and Fisheries Committee, which is vital to guarding our fisheries and the 60,000 jobs in Western Washington directly related to maritime trade and port activities.

Congressman Pritchard has helped protect thousands of acres of unspoiled wilderness in Washington State for future generations. Working closely with the entire State Congressional delegation, he was instrumental in passing the Alpine Lake Wilderness Area Act, and having it signed into law.

He has continued his practice of visiting each local neighborhood regularly to meet with citizens on an open, individual basis. From these meetings he maintains his understanding of the needs and concerns of all the people in the First Congressional District.

Because Joel Pritchard has effectively represented the working people of his District, he is endorsed by the King County and Washington State AFL-CIO.

Because of Joel Pritchard's efforts on behalf of education for the 122,000 students in the First Congressional District, he is endorsed by the Bellevue, Washington State and National Education Associations.

Because of Joel Pritchard's constructive approach to honest, open government, he has received high ratings on his voting record from the League of Women Voters (91%), the American Association of University Women (100%), and other citizen organizations.

In the past America has been a land of opportunity. A baby born here had a future. Countless babies were born to poor immigrant parents and went on to achieve great things. America was a land of hope, where hard work and imagination paid off.

But America has changed.

A baby born in 1976 is caught in a tangle of debts and regulations.

A baby born in the U.S. today "owes" $3,807. That's his share of the real national debt.

The baby also has a share of the operating budgets of state, local and federal governments: Another $1,364.

The baby is also committed to pay off the financial obligations of the Social Security System, which is currently 4 trillion dollars short. This is another $20,000.

Poor baby, he's already on the hook for $25,171. But his problems are just beginning!

Big Government will cost the baby more than a million dollars—assuming taxes and inflation do not increase over his lifespan, and by the time the baby reaches working age, there may be no job available.

You can help lighten the burden of excessive taxes and restrictions which stifle our society—by voting for me for the United States Congress.

John Nance

2nd Cong. Dist.

John Nance Garner is seeking the Second District seat because of a strong personal commitment to work for change within our governmental system. He also is running because the voters in the district, responding to a recent poll, overwhelmingly expressed their preference for limiting terms to twelve years. Congressman Meeds has had his twelve years.

The major issues this year, says Garner, involve stopping inflation, reducing governmental spending and replacing confidence in our elected officials. Garner also feels welfare reform, solutions to the energy crisis, educational financing and attacking the problems faced by fishermen, farmers and the forest products industry rank high among concerns of the voter. John Nance Garner has spoken out specifically on his ideas for solving each of these voter concerns and has listened attentively to the opinions of the people involved in the problems.

John Nance Garner places as the highest priority, the balancing of the federal budget to halt inflationary trends. When presented with the problem of the mounting national debt because of overspending, Congressman Meeds voted five times last year to raise the ceiling on the national debt.

John Nance Garner is a fighter for what he believes in. Two years ago, he led the fight to unseat State Senator August Mardesich. Last year, he filed suit, as a concerned citizen, against the State Legislature to force a halt to the longest, most unproductive and most expensive session in the state's history. Garner is active in many service clubs; the Episcopal church; serves as a Major in the Army Reserve and is a founder and the first president of New Leaf, Inc., a sheltered workshop for handicapped persons.

John Nance Garner is a life-long resident of Washington and a graduate of Eastern Washington State College. An independent businessman, Garner and his wife of 21 years, Marlene, live in Everett. Marlene is a Marysville school teacher. They have two children, John and Lori.

He's an achiever who cares about your day to day concerns. Meeds listens. He talks with you, conducts an annual poll, responds promptly to your letters and requests.

Meeds works hard to make the system work better. He helped curb Adam Clayton Powell and then introduced "sunshine" rules in two House committees. He led a fight to oust Wayne Hays a year before the scandal. He pushed through tough reforms on payrolls and accounts. Meeds supports full disclosure by officeholders, regulation of lobbyists, tough campaign spending rules. Lloyd Meeds passed the Youth Conservation Corps. It's great. Thousands of our kids build campsites, repair trails, construct bridges. They learn and earn. Now Meeds is working for a full time young adult corps.

No congressman worked harder for the Alpine Lakes Wilderness than Lloyd Meeds. He's also passed bills to regulate oil shipping on Puget Sound, create more campgrounds, build up steelhead and salmon runs. Meeds works for quality schools. A key member of the House Education and Labor Committee, he's gotten priority for vocational education, counseling on drug abuse, child nutrition.

Lloyd Meeds cleared the way for the Alaska pipeline and thousands of new jobs in Puget Sound. He's helped the aircraft industry, passed public service jobs, and worked to have American logs create jobs at home. He strongly favors lower interest rates to help business expand.

Your concerns count the most. Meeds works hard when there's a problem with Social Security, a missing VA check, a son who wants to come home on leave. Lloyd Meeds works for you.

Generations of Americans have been brainwashed by such statements as: Don't talk religion, you can't fight city hall, don't talk politics, you can't be elected unless Democrat or Republican! America, a Christian nation was founded and governed by Christians! However, under the pretended two-party system, the word of God is denied children in their education! Americans daily discover unconstitutional laws and demand repeal! If we don't talk politics, we can't vote intelligently! The vast majority of Americans are independent voters! Chuck Elhart, an Aberdeen-born resident of Lacey, is a graduate of North Thurston H.S. and the U of W. A former college professor and past editorial-page editor of a daily newspaper, Elhart has a Master's Degree in history from Texas Christian U.

Elhart rejects as totally unacceptable the "learn-to-live-with-it" attitude—expressed by certain politicians—concerning the Boldt Decision. The Portland Oregonian (6/18/76) has also criticized the "absence of political courage" on the part of western Congressmen as the reason for Congress's failure to clarify the intent of the Indian treaties.

If elected, Chuck Elhart will introduce legislation which would: 1. Make Treaty Indians fully subject to State regulatory authorities in the case of Fish and Game; and 2. make it illegal for anyone, including Treaty Indians, to commercialize steelhead trout. A resolute defender of preserving U.S. sovereignty in the Panama Canal, Elhart visited the Canal Zone in April as the invited guest of an American labor leader there.

There are many fancy names to describe inflation—but Elhart believes "theft" describes it very well. And it is theft in its most destructive form because the burden of deficit spending falls heaviest on those Americans who are least able to bear it—the old, the poor and those who save for their future and their children's future. Chuck Elhart will work to repeal the automatic pay hikes Congress voted itself last year. The average taxpayer is having a hard enough time providing for his own family in these inflationary times without having to foot the bill for more lavish living by his Congressman.

Remember, if somebody gets "something for nothing" from Government some poor taxpayer must always be getting "nothing for something."

Isn't it time we put Big Government on a diet?

An outstanding record of integrity, forthright leadership and consistent hard work for the Third District has marked Don Bonker as one of the ablest of the "new breed" of Congressmen. He has lived up to his pledge "to do what is right, not what is politically expedient."

The voices of special interests are loud in the nation's capitol, but Don Bonker has turned a deaf ear to the seekers of special privilege. He listens only to his constituents and his own conscience.

He led efforts on the House floor to prevent our involvement in the Angolan civil war—a remarkable first for a freshman. He wrote the most comprehensive reform proposals to eliminate abuses of Congressional funds and allowances.

In his first test on the House floor, he successfully carried two key amendments to the post card registration bill which eliminated unnecessary cost, despite opposition by House leadership and powerful political interests. One weekly called that an "incredible victory" and labeled Bonker a "courageous freshman congressman."

He heard your demands and worked for enactment of a 200-mile fishing zone, legislation to bring justice to our tax system, to put people back to work, to expand medical care and help the elderly, and to end unproductive government regulations that hurt small businessmen.

You wanted a representative who listens, so he opened three District offices, conducts regular District meetings, and returns to the Third District monthly. Letters get prompt, honest replies. The record of helping citizens and small businessmen with government problems is impressive.

Bonker has been effective precisely because he is a man of integrity, perseverance and dedication to the public interest. Above all, he has been a Representative you can be proud to have serving you.

Raymond
PRITCHARD

Republican
7th Cong. Dist.

Raymond Pritchard believes you, the voters, are concerned with the operation of our United States Government. That concern results from the need to improve government efficiency, to reduce government expenditures, to take the government out of the taxpayers' pockets, and to improve our citizens' trust in their government.

Congress must act to make our government more efficient, less costly, and no longer in our citizens' doghouse.

For example, Congress should stop voting itself and other government officials salary and fringe benefit raises. Pritchard will always vote against salary and fringe benefit raises for Congressmen and other government officials. Furthermore, Pritchard will take a pay cut by giving 15% of his Congressman's salary to the Washington State Treasury. Also, he will not have anything to do with the Congressmen's pension plan, because the taxpayers have to pay into it. The taxpayers should not have to pay taxes into the pension plans of government officials.

Pritchard is a working man who knows what it is to have the government's tax collecting hand in his pocket. He will fight to protect the interests of his fellow citizens, especially those who work for a living and pay taxes.

Pritchard believes: (1) The government must stop giving away our money to foreign countries. (2) The government must stop spending more than its income. (3) The courts must be made to punish criminals for their crimes, especially government officials who commit crimes. (4) The personal income tax should be ended and any necessary tax burden shifted to business. (5) Healthy people on welfare must work for what they receive. (6) The Social Security Program is in a mess and must be straightened out. (7) The number of government employees must be drastically reduced. (8) The government must stop running businesses and competing with private industry.

Gene also knows that Congress cannot continue to overspend with it's bureaucratic giveaway programs and still remain solvent.

Our Congress is so eager to purchase votes with their promising a cure for everything from full employment to national health insurance, which will cost us billions more for another bureaucracy to eat away at our incomes with more taxation!

Government produces nothing, what they proclaim to give to one segment of society, they must take from another or continue their deficit spending, which causes more inflation, more taxes, more unemployment, more dependency upon government, and that cancerous bureaucracy continues to devour our incentive, by smothering us with additional paper work.

There is not one person in the construction industry or any other business, who is not fed up with a government which refuses to listen or reason. A Congress who feeds and aids our enemy, a Congress who weakens our defense by collaborating with "atheistic Communism".

This nation was built by men and women who had strong Christian beliefs and confidence in themselves and the constitution under God.

Gene Goosman is not making any promises that he cannot keep, common reasoning places the responsibility for honest representation upon the voters of this nation and the seventh congressional district.

Governor

State of Washington

John D.
SPELLMAN
Republican

John Spellman has proven he can get the job done as the head of our most populous county. Spellman has cleaned up a poorly managed, patronage courthouse, turning it into an efficient and responsive local government. He did this by setting up a system of employee accountability based on merit, wiping out a multi-million dollar debt and eliminating deficit spending. His perseverance as a never-give-up problem-solver has brought results . . . not just headlines. Today, Washington State is in the major leagues as the result of John Spellman's determination to complete a voter-approved domed stadium.

John Spellman is determined to cut back on unnecessary State spending so the funding of education can be met within existing sources of revenue. Making quality education our State's highest priority without relying on special levies or endless new taxes is a tough job that John Spellman is committed to do. Creating jobs while preserving Washington's unique environment is a job John Spellman will get done.

A lifelong resident of Washington State and Navy veteran of World War II, John was graduated as valedictorian from Seattle University and received his law degree at Georgetown Law School.

He practiced law for 14 years, was County Commissioner for two years and was elected King County Executive in 1969.

John has served in leadership positions in such organizations as the Pacific Science Center Foundation, the National Council on Inflation, Boy Scouts and Boys Clubs. He also serves on the state Law and Justice Committee and is past President of the National Council of Elected County Executives.

John and his wife, Lois, have six school-aged children. They live in the same house they bought 13 years ago.

John Spellman is the candidate for Governor who has proven he can get the job done.

Dixy Lee
RAY

Future leadership in Washington State must be based on honest, open, responsible government. Anything less is unacceptable.

We should strive to achieve sensible, not political solutions. Our lagging economy needs the attention of positive thinkers, rejecting those who wish to close the state's gates and turn it into a museum.

The economy must be the No. 1 priority of both the Governor and Legislature. It's a disgrace that the present administration has permitted the state to drop to 50th place—dead last!—in surveys indicating which states have the most favorable business and industrial climate. We must cut the red tape and the bureaucratic hurdles in the path of firms that want to expand or to settle here.

All other considerations stem from a healthy state economy—jobs, better schools, fair treatment of our elderly and the sick, improved working conditions and income for our labor force, higher quality institutions. There is no better solution to state problems than prosperity.

In the area of environmental issues, perspective and balance are essential. All viewpoints must be heard; all sides should sit down together to create a program that protects the environment without destroying commerce and jobs. We must talk together, reason together, and stop bickering.

We must determine how taxes can be reduced and made more equitable, not search constantly to find new items to tax. An overhaul of our tax structure and reduction or elimination of nuisance and regressive taxes should be undertaken—after government goes to the people and asks them which services and costs they're willing to accept. In the past our leadership has tossed a tax package at the people and said: "Take it or leave it." No wonder they have said "No!"

It's time to use intelligence, sincerity, and common sense in solving problems, not political ploys.

Henry KILLMAN
Socialist Labor

Without a doubt the major issues of the day are unemployment and inflation; problems that cannot be legislated out of existence. Unemployment results from the workers being paid only enough to buy but a portion of what they produce, thus leaving a large, unsold surplus on the market. War, huge defense programs and an overgrown, expensive government bureaucracy, have held the unemployment figures as low as they are. However, in order to maintain these things, deficit spending on a large scale is necessary, which in turn adds fuel to the inflationary trend. The major party politicians have no answer. The cause lies in the profit motivated system of capitalism.

Other continuing and nagging dilemmas, related to the profit motive include; commercial versus sport fishing, school financing, logging operations, etc. Special interests and profits are too often deciding factors in decisions regarding these matters; decisions that inevitably result in more and more bureaucratic controls.

Capitalism has developed technology to the place where a super abundance is produced. We must now bring our society and government in line with this modern mode of production, by establishing a government in which the industries and services are owned collectively and operated democratically by those who work in them: A government based on industrial rather than geographical representation; a society in which production is carried on for use instead of profit, for the benefit of all instead of for a few.

In a society of this kind the major crises of unemployment and inflation would automatically disappear. With the profit motive, and along with it the special interest considerations being eliminated, other major and minor issues could be easily solved in a manner beneficial to all.

Art Manning is a working man with a wife and seven children. He served six years in the U.S. Marine Corps, six years as police officer and investigator for the North Carolina State Bureau of Investigation and is currently employed by Weyerhaeuser.

Art Manning is willing to face the issues. He will fight to protect your real and personal property from being confiscated or controlled through legislation; fight for the constitutional right of the law-abiding citizen to keep and bear arms; work for legislation demanding mandatory penalties for major crimes and for better protection for law-abiding citizens; enforce the voters' decision on the death penalty; work to enforce federal regulations governing aliens in order to protect the employment of U.S. citizens; work to protect Washington's commercial fishing industry; work to streamline state government and increase efficiency in order to reduce existing taxes. He sees no need for a state income tax.

He believes the governor's office should be open and responsive to the problems of the individual citizen. He supports local voter-controlled education. He believes the state has the responsibility to provide basic education and that special local programs should be funded and controlled at the local level.

Under the free enterprise system America has grown, in only 200 years, to be the most productive nation on earth. This is the way Art Manning sees it: "I am running for governor because I am concerned, as you are, about protecting and preserving our precious heritage of freedom and guaranteeing a prosperous future for our children.

I ask two things of you; that you give these issues your careful consideration and that after doing so you cast your ballot for me as your next governor of the State of Washington."

The importance of this election to the citizens of our fair state cannot be underestimated. The issues are broad, high, wide and handsome is as handsome does. I have found, however, that the issues are not the issue for once an issue is made of the issues and the issues are responded to, they no longer are issues but become answers.

Because of the above mentioned dialectical problem I am responding to some of the more pressing non-issues facing this state.

1) It has become apparent that unemployment isn't working but—

2) Inflation is. I feel we have done a good job of getting inflation off of dead center and back on the move again.

3) We must get the girls out of those sweaty saunas and back on the streets again. This is gradually being done and I can see the red light at the end of the tunnel on this program.

4) Because of the energy crisis and potential oil spill non-issues, we have been asked to think tanker. What I propose is the importation of Irish tinkers to fix leaking tankers.

In this way, instead of thinking tankers we can thank tinkers thereby solving two problems with the single stroke of a ball-peen hammer. a) we reduce oil spills, b) we help wind down the war in Ireland. It is imperative that the other candidates grasp the bull by the tail and face the situation squarely on this issue.

It will always be my contention that the buck starts here, so remember, a vote for Red Kelly is like taking two giant steps backward so if you believe in my programs say "Mother-may-I" and throw the rascals out.

Restructure the Tax System: No tax on incomes less than $15,000 annually and a 100% tax on all income over $30,000. No state sales tax, special levies or property taxes on owner-occupied homes.

End corporate destruction of the environment: Polluting companies must clean-up, reclaim, and restore or pay a penalty of 100% tax on their profits. Clean up the Tacoma smelter; no oil super-tanker traffic in Puget Sound. Make nuclear energy safe; vote YES on Initiative 325.

End racist discrimination: Maintain and extend affirmative action programs on all jobs. Make redlining a crime with stiff penalties and jailing for bankers who do not comply. Uphold Indian fishing rights. Drop all charges against Yvonne Wanrow.

End discrimination against women: For passage of the federal Equal Rights Amendment, affirmative action programs, and state-funded child care facilities controlled by the parents who use them.

End the crisis in education: No more school levies; full state funding of schools through a corporate profits tax; stop tuition hikes in higher education. Desegregate schools under the direction and control of the Black, Chicano, Native American and Asian communities. For bilingual and bicultural education for non-English speaking students.

Break with the Democratic and Republican parties of big business. Vote for human needs before private profits; vote Socialist Workers!

Maurice W.
WILLEY, Jr.
Libertarian

My primary goal as Governor would be to reduce the cost of government by reducing the size of government. I would immediately place a freeze on state hiring until the number of state employees had been reduced by 25%, at which time I would set priorities for continued reductions. At the same time, I would take steps to return as many state activities as possible to private hands and to consolidate or abolish the remainder. The sole effective means to reduce taxes is to reduce the size of government.

In addition to taxes, the citizens of Washington are concerned about the twin problems of crime and privacy. I would vigorously push for mandatory minimum sentences for crimes of violence, especially those committed with handguns. I would act to decriminalize all non-violent acts between consenting adults, thereby ending the coercive intrusion of the state into the private lives of its citizens. In this same vein, I would severely limit the interference of the state in the business affairs of its citizens to the investigation of fraud, and thus remove a burdensome check on our productivity.

Finally, I will touch upon education, the largest item in the state budget. I believe the solution to our school financing woes is to reduce, not increase, the state involvement in education. I would start the process of transferring the public education function to private hands, where it belongs. A method under consideration is the use of real estate tax checkoffs for contributions to education, thereby permitting direct taxpayer support for schools of choice, including parochial schools.

It should be apparent that the Libertarian Party offers solutions to problems that are not the same tired old dead-ends which the other candidates proffer. A vote for me is a vote to protect your own freedom.

Phil Long is 50% of the Bellevue couple that battled I.R.S. in a David and Goliath contest reported nationally in Readers' Digest, Time, Newsweek, National Observer, Washington Post, New York Times and most Washington dailies. "No one has done more for public disclosure of IRS audit policies and practices" (Wall Street Journal). "Without them, most of what we now know about (IRS) working methods would not be known" (David Brinkley, NBC-TV).

The Lieutenant Governor's job is unique. The principal duties of Senate presiding officer now require only 25% of one's time.

Consider utilizing Phil Long's abilities as a year-round ombudsman, assisting ordinary citizens and small businessmen. Phil's concept, that the Lieutenant Governor act as ombudsman for Joe Doakes in coping with State bureaucracy and battling massive red tape, has been acclaimed by people knowledgeable in State government.

The rare ability to be effective against powerful bureaucracy has been demonstrated by Phil Long during his IRS endeavors. Previous experience, insurance, construction, real estate, ship's officer, built on education in Seattle and the University of Washington.

Many Washingtonians during the next four years will have 'Problems in Olympia'. I would like to be a full-time Lieutenant Governor to serve you.

Cherberg has also served as chairman of the Senate Committee on Rules and Order, as a member of the State Finance Committee, the State Capitol Committee, the State Patrol Retirement System Board and as chairman of the State Data Processing Authority.

The people whose business it is to know and report on state government have singled John Cherberg out with such praise as Jack Pyle in the Tacoma News Tribune: "Cherberg's gavel has saved billions of dollars for the State." And "... one of the most respected and admired public officials ever elected to office by the voters of Washington," John Richmond, Fire Fighters Magazine. And Joe Davis, State Labor Council: "Lt. Governor Cherberg has been acting in the highest tradition of elected public officials in his actions concerning the State's investment policy."

The list goes on and includes honors for outstanding public service and achievement by state, national and international organizations. John Cherberg is truly a champion of the people of the State of Washington and because he serves everyone to the maximum of his abilities, John Cherberg merits re-election as your Lieutenant Governor in 1976.

Throughout his 20 years in public office, John A. Cherberg has gained a reputation of firmness and equality for all points of view in his position as presiding officer of the Senate. He is the qualified candidate to be your Lieutenant Governor.

John Cherberg's outstanding record in Olympia assures you of strong management in state government to fight inflation and rising crime rates. And his experience in legislation will profoundly affect the other key issues of school funding, unemployment, fishing rights, energy, transportation, public pension reform, an equitable tax system, and the operation of correctional institutions.

The Secretary of State's office is one of the smaller agencies in state government; yet, in my eighteen months in this office, I have been one of the few state officials to reduce staff.

Meanwhile, key functions are being improved at no added cost to the taxpayer: expanded voter education efforts, more accessible polling places for handicapped and elderly citizens, and increased registration of young and minority voters. Technical guidance for election workers has been upgraded.

I have proposed to the Legislature further economies and have advocated a long overdue clean-up of outmoded election laws.

Special assignments we have carried out in the Task Force on Aging and as co-ordinator of state government activities for the Bicentennial have been well handled by a staff that really cares. Thousands of Washington citizens have contributed their energies to these projects on a strictly volunteer basis.

My highest priority remains government reform—constitutional reform to streamline government operations and enactment of tough ethics legislation for public officials.

The "Public Trust Act" I authored to deal with notorious conflict of interest and bribery problems in Olympia will be vigorously advocated before the Legislature next January, if I am elected.

Bob CORCORAN
Democrat

Bob Corcoran, 46 year old well-known Radio-TV commentator and Tacoma business executive, feels the office, Secretary of State must remain elective, rather than appointive or abolished as the present incumbent has indicated.

One of the major duties of the office assigned by the Legislature is to supervise election procedures. A new book authored by Corcoran regarding the dangers and errors of punch card computer voting systems points out the ineffectiveness of the Secretary of State's office to design safe ballots (punch cards), also prescribe proper pre-testing safety procedures for computer program tapes that are responsible for accurately tallying votes. As a result September 1975 statewide elections, Mason County's vote results were first reported totally erroneous. Two days later the correct results were announced; in addition 34,785 votes in 12 counties not tallied.

Corcoran, after one year of research with top computer programmers, has resolved the punch card computer system is too dangerous and error-prone to assure accurate vote tallying for Washington voters.

Corcoran will request the 1977 Legislature abolish the punch card computer system now used by 45% of Washington residents.

Corcoran, wife and 5 youngsters reside in Puyallup, where he is active in civic affairs.

He established a statewide deposit system for locally collected revenues and a lockbox deposit system for state agencies, thereby increasing investible surplus. O'Brien was instrumental in upgrading the state's bond rating, saving the taxpayers millions of dollars.

O'Brien received national and regional acclaim for his administration and for the programs he has instituted. Following a recent audit of the Treasurer's multi-billion dollar investment programs, the State Auditor indicated that no audit exceptions were found. Raj Puri provides the necessary leadership and will promote and develop a professional staff to serve you better—the taxpayer.

Raj Puri, 43, a long time Washington resident, startled the incumbent and others in state government by filing against his boss. Puri became aware of Graham's inefficient operations and poor administration during the last two years, since he assumed audit supervision of higher education. The incumbent has been in office for 12 years and present state audits are many years behind.

A State Auditor should not finance his campaign with contributions solicited from his staff. Puri believes this act is unethical because it puts employees in an awkward position; and lessens Auditor's objectivity.

Puri is honest, has maintained his independence, high ethical standards, personal integrity and a solid record of progressive accomplishments. He sees the potential of saving the State millions of tax dollars through professional accounting and auditing management.

Puri's education includes a bachelor's degree in finance and master's in business administration—accounting, from the University of Washington. His background and experience as a professional auditor qualified him as a Certified Public Accountant. In contrast, the incumbent lacks these credentials that help provide efficient auditing services to the people.

Robert V. (Bob)
GRAHAM
Democrat

Bob Graham's record as your state auditor has fully proven the public's confidence in his stewardship. His effective application of modern governmental auditing and accounting systems and techniques has brought national attention to this state. A United States General Accounting Office official has stated:

"... Professionally, Washington State ranks in the top ten in the nation for their audit procedures."

Bob Graham's leadership among organizations of his auditor-accountant peers is shown by these examples: 1. Elected Chairman, National Council on Governmental Accounting of the Municipal Finance Officers' Association of the United States and Canada. 2. Elected Vice-Chairman, Pacific Northwest Intergovernmental Audit Forum (a United States General Accounting Office program). 3. Awarded the professional designation of "Certified Internal Auditor" by the Institute of Internal Auditors.

Bob Graham's audits of our state and local governments have disclosed findings ranging from improper accounting for public funds to indications of official impropriety. His rigidly enforced principle is that such factual reporting is never slanted to accommodate partisan, political considerations.

Bob Graham is dedicated to the independence and professionalism of an elected state auditor, responsive to the legislature and responsible to the people. Re-elect Bob Graham—he's doing an outstanding job.

Attorney General

State of Washington

Slade
GORTON
Republican

Slade Gorton's performance in a high leadership position is recognized locally and nationally as outstanding. He is a member of the President's Consumer Advisory Council—one of 12; the only West Coast member. He is president of the National Association of Attorneys General.

Newspapers throughout our state have lauded Gorton's performance. (For example, the P.I. observed in 1974: "He has been an outstanding public servant, showing intelligence, integrity and courage in the performance of his duties. . .")

He is endorsed by Teamsters Joint Council 28.

Slade Gorton is not satisfied with just running a fine law office. He believes elected officials should be activists for the people, that they must exercise their public trust with both integrity and courage. Thus, he has taken appropriate action even when it involved the U.S. President, powerful businesses or the probability of smear reprisals.

His involvement in the pioneering Operation Money Back anti-trust settlement brought rebate checks to over 75,000 families last year. Recently, in partnership with law enforcement agencies, Gorton has helped launch one of the nation's first statewide crime-prevention programs.

The Gorton record demonstrates ability, leadership, activism and integrity.

J. Bruce
BURNS
Democrat

Burns will restore professionalism and integrity to the office of Attorney General. The incumbent has made it a practice to hire lawyers outside his office resulting in unnecessary fees paid by the taxpayer. In one instance, the fee was over $170,000.00.

As Attorney General, Burns will:

1. Develop a new consumer protection program to replace the public relations effort that has masked the incumbent's performance.
2. Press for an investigation and for legislation in regard to the shameful conditions of our nursing homes.
3. Give leadership and guidelines to law enforcement agencies and the courts so we can be safe in our homes and on the street.
4. Recommend legislation to prevent "rip-offs" by private electric and gas utilities.
5. Remove favoritism and partisanship from the office and represent all the people of the state fairly and equally.

Burns is a native Washingtonian, an alumnus of U.P.S., University of Portland and Willamette University. He is a disabled veteran of WWII. Burns was an elected Tacoma freeholder and served three terms in the legislature. He and his wife, Ann, have two children.

Winston Churchill once said that war was too important to be left in the hands of generals. The same is true of law. Its administration is too important to be left in the hands of attorneys. They can complicate the simplest of issues thereby confusing everyone including themselves. In Sweden very few attorneys are elected to Parliament. Do you want your child to grow up in Sweden?

Folks, let's take the fun out of crime. What I propose is aversion therapy after the first conviction. Let's get them before they find out how much fun crime can be. I can guarantee that after two or three weeks on 'Bunco' Bob's aversion therapy farm they won't steal again without splitting the take.

Richard MARCLEY
Republican

As a research scientist and student of the environment, Mr. Marcley is well aware of the complex interrelationships existing in nature; and the seemingly more complex relationship between the environment and the economy. Mr. Marcley believes the time of lip service to environmental issues is over. Now is the time for us to develop sound ecological practices and devise new ways of generating income from them. The state should set the example of the wisest use of public lands.

The public lands belong to all of us. Wise administration of these lands is necessary for the continuous long-term benefits to the people of Washington State.

Mr. Marcley: Questions the practices of intensive forestation on state lands; supports Initiative 325; believes local communities have been ignored in Department of Natural Resources decisions and will correct this; knows that the small farmer's water rights are essential; supports the development of more recreational lands; encourages 'Design with Nature' residential development; wants sealed bids for grazing permits; urges protection for the waters of Puget Sound. Keep Washington green!!

Bert L.
COLE
Democrat

Bert L. Cole was first elected Commissioner of Public Lands in 1956 and has consistently been re-elected by one of the largest voter margins in the state.

He administers the Department of Natural Resources (DNR) which manages nearly 5 million acres of forest, agricultural and aquatic lands.

His philosophy is stewardship of the land for the benefit of both present and future Washingtonians. Under his leadership, income from the management of state trust lands has increased from $9.6 million when he first took office, to $75.5 million in fiscal 1976.

Cole recognizes that our state's economy is based on our renewable resources. He believes we can and must continue to have jobs in forestry and agriculture while protecting the quality of the environment.

Born and raised in Western Washington, he graduated from Ferndale High School and the University of Washington. Before his election to statewide office, he had been an educator, banker, logger, City Councilman and County Commissioner.

Cole has received numerous awards in forestry and conservation, and has gained international recognition for his progressive management of natural resources:

What could be more important than one job? Two jobs. What could be more important than two jobs? Four jobs. What could be more important than four jobs? Eight jobs. What could be more important than eight jobs? Sixteen jobs. What could be more important than 16 jobs? When we cut down our trees we create jobs and all know and recognize the most economical and efficient method of removing trees is what was once caustically and erroneously called the 'slash' cut method, is now called the 'clear' cut method and next year will be termed the 'clean' cut method of logging. Aside from being economical, this method gives us those aesthetically pleasing open spaces we so sorely need. Of course those trees will always grow back. Witness, for example, the cedars of Lebanon. As the bible so eloquently states "If your tree offends you pluck it out and make it into a number two peeler." This policy also sets the stage for another great literary classic which will be entitled "A Tree Grew in Washington."

The last major earthquake cracked the dome and all earthquakes aren't Ober so if you want to shake up the capitol throw the rascals out.

Insurance Commissioner

State of Washington

Richard G. (Dick)
MARQUARDT
Republican

I believe that the primary role of the Insurance Commissioner is to protect the consumer at the same time that the insurance industry is fairly regulated.

As an experienced administrator, I know how to hire the best people for the supervisory and policy making jobs and I know how to cut the fat out of a government budget. I have served as Director of the United States Selective Service for Washington and also as an executive in private industry.

I propose to start an extensive consumer education program throughout the state to help the consumer understand the insurance industry. I would accomplish this task through a program of seminars, radio and television programs, speeches to groups and newspaper articles.

Like any other industry I believe that the insurance industry must be constantly looking for new ways to improve themselves and what they offer to the public. I would encourage the insurance companies in the state to look for new innovative ideas to help the consumer.

I believe that the Insurance Commissioner should take a leadership role in insurance legislation and I would work actively with the Legislature to get the necessary bills passed.

Karl HERRMANN
Democrat

In 1972 over one million votes were cast for my re-election as Insurance Commissioner, a new state record for any candidate or issue. I believe the primary reason for this vote of confidence was my record in protecting the policyholders' interest.

This record includes: —Establishment of guaranty funds so that policyholders are protected should their insurance company go broke. —Appointing a public defender to contest unjustified requests for rate hikes. Since 1972 our public defender system has saved policyholders $304,859,993 by turning down unjustified increases. —Negotiating a voluntary no-fault auto insurance plan, known as PIP, providing $25,000 additional coverage at no extra cost for persons otherwise unprotected.

In addition our consumer services division has collected over $14 million for claimants without cost to them. Altogether, we handle over 50,000 complaints and inquiries annually through seven offices located statewide.

As Fire Marshal, we have saved taxpayers millions of dollars by breaking bottlenecks existing in construction plans approval when I took office in 1969. We have an arson detection squad second to none in the nation.

Finally, I believe this office has an educated, dedicated professional staff which gives polite, courteous and efficient service to every citizen.

State Senator

VOTE FOR ONE

Norwood CUNNINGHAM

Republican
11th Leg. Dist.
King, part

It is time for a change. We need a Senator who will be our voice in Olympia. Norwood Cunningham will be that voice. He is a former state legislator—a person of integrity—who will listen and then make the hard decisions that need to be made. Norwood is running because the people of our District deserve a State Senator worthy of their trust, confidence, and respect—one who is willing to speak-out on issues and provide positive effective leadership.

Norwood is that type of leader. He will provide a strong voice in Olympia—a voice stressing accountability in governmental spending so that we get the best value for our tax dollar. He will work hard to develop a realistic plan for school financing—so that our children will receive the best possible education; and work to pass legislation which will assure swift and sure punishment to those who are convicted of serious crimes.

The Cunningham's, residents of Kent for over 30 years, are activists who have worked in the community and in their church. A former teacher, he is currently the Kent School District's Transportation Supervisor. He attends the Renton Presbyterian Church, and is a member of the Kent Chamber of Commerce, the Rotary Club and KEA.

Gary GRANT

Democrat
11th Leg. Dist.
King, part

We need Gary Grant in the State Senate. Why? During the past four years, special interest groups (banks, small loan companies, oil interests, and the large utilities) have practically dictated their desires to the State Legislature. These groups seek to raise your utility bill, increase the interest you currently pay on installment credit contracts (12% to 18%) and create tax loopholes for the large multi-state corporations. Gary has not been afraid to speak out on these issues and oppose these special interest groups.

As a working union official, Gary understands the problems and concerns facing the working family. His legislative record during his first term in the State Senate reflects his concern.

This year's legislative elections are crucially important. By alienating the large special interest groups, Gary realizes that re-election to the Senate may be difficult. A lot of money will probably be spent to defeat him. That is why he needs your vote. The people of the 11th District are his "special interest."

Gary, his wife Tanya, and their four children live on a small farm near Kent. He is a graduate of St. Martin's College in Lacey and President of Local 674, Public Service Employees Union.

My candidacy is an honor, privilege, and a responsibility—to my family, which includes two preschool sons to whom I wish a clean, peaceful, safe environment and a good education.

My background, which includes a B.A. in Economics, convinces me good education is best served by a voucher system. I believe education, and all other programs, can best be financed—not by squeezing the public or snuffing out business—but by sharing in the profits of salmon hatchery-canneries franchised to private industry as a year around, non-polluting, high employment utilization of our unique natural renewable resources.

The first hired for these jobs should be Blacks, other oppressed minorities and women. End the continual crisis in education: No more school levies; full state funding for education through a corporate profits tax. Dear Voter: I am writing this letter directly to you because there are problems in Olympia which need our immediate attention. These problems include work that needs to be done, as well as the honesty and integrity of our elected officials.

The work that needs to be done includes: (1) Adequate support for schools as the state constitution provides, (2) developing a more equitable tax structure, including revision of the regressive B&O and sales taxes, (3) legislation reform, and (4) thoughtful planning for the management of our environment, balanced with the necessity for the growth of business and providing of jobs.

As important as the above issues is the credibility and honesty of legislators. We can't afford to let those who have let us down by buying legislation, or who violate the constitution by voting on conflicts of interest continue. As a lifelong resident of Washington I would like to see our legislature restored to something we can be proud of.

About myself, I am married and have two children. I served in the Air Force. After graduating with honors from Pacific Lutheran University I have taught and coached for five years. I have been involved in community activities, including Boys Club, and in grassroots politics.

House Joint Resolution 64

PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT

Vote cast by the members of the 1976 Legislature on final passage:

SENATE [49 members]: Yeas, 36; Nays, 9; Absent or not voting, 4.

Statement for

People Support Home Rule and Self Determination

Since 1948 the citizens of eight counties have elected freeholders to write home rule charters. Only in a single instance, King County in 1968, has a freeholder-devised charter been approved.

The freeholder method for writing a county home rule charter is time consuming and complex. This method has frustrated the citizens' desire for home rule on numerous occasions.

The current two-step process to obtain county home rule involves the election of freeholders who draft a charter, and a second election where citizens approve or reject the proposed charter. HJR 64 would simplify this by providing an alternative procedure.

HJR 64 Is Another Way To Acquire County Home Rule

Under HJR 64, the legislature must create a temporary commission which will draft from three to five model charters. Any of these charters may be placed on the ballot for the approval or rejection of county voters by either: (1) Vote of the county commissioners; or (2) Petition by county voters. These are the same requirements for a freeholder election.

Any charter must subsequently be approved by county voters. The only change is to a simpler, more direct method of obtaining county home rule using well-drafted charters.

Why County Home Rule?

Upon voter approval of a charter, a charter county may give its citizens:

- a) right to initiative and referendum,
- b) a modern and improved structure, and
- c) power to adapt, through voter-approved charter amendments, to changing needs.

Official Ballot Title:

Shall a state agency be created to draft several alternative model county home-rule charters for possible adoption by any county?

The Law as it now exists:

At the present time, all counties may adopt "home-rule" charters. Under the Constitution, there are two alternative means by which a proposed home-rule charter may be drafted and submitted to the people of the county for their approval.

HJR 64 Is People Power

Well drafted charters, reflecting different forms of county government, will enhance the citizens' ability to govern themselves.

Rebuttal of Statement against

HJR 64 CANNOT AUTHORIZE A LOCAL INCOME TAX

Courts have never recognized inherent taxing authority for charter counties.

HJR 64 is an alternative and less confusing procedure to obtain home rule. It does not grant new powers to counties, nor diminish the quality of county home rule.

DON'T BE MISLED—VOTE FOR HJR 64

The temporary commission shall be "... under the supervision of the legislature. ..." HJR 64 was approved by the House 84-4 and by the Senate 36-9.

Opponents fear home rule. Their arguments are clever attempts to deceive. VOTE YES!

Voters' Pamphlet Statement Prepared by:

GEORGE FLEMING, State Senator; JOE D. HAUSSLER, State Representative; and ELEANOR LEE, State Representative.

Advisory Committee: DEAN COLE, Clark County Commissioner and President, Washington State Association of Counties; LOIS NORTH, State Senator, Republican; JEFF DOUTHWAITE, State Representative, Democrat; MARIANNE CRAFT NORTON, President, American Association of University Women; and JERRY KOPET, Spokane County Commissioner.

One such means is for the legislative authority (i.e., county commissioners or county council) to call for an election at which 15-25 freeholders are chosen to prepare and propose a charter. The other is by petition from a number of county voters equal to 10% of those persons who voted at the last preceding general election. In that case, both the question of whether or not to prepare a charter and the election of freeholders is on the same ballot.

Under either method, only one proposed charter may thereafter be submitted to the people of the county by the freeholders. The charter, once adopted, becomes the basic law governing the county and supersedes any previously existing charter.

The effect of House Joint Resolution 64, if approved into Law:

House Joint Resolution No. 64 would require the state legislature to create a County Home Rule Commission. The Commission would be empowered to draft at least three but not more than five model "home-rule" county charters. One or more of those model charters could then be submitted to the voters of any county for approval, ratification or rejection by either of two methods. The first method would be by resolutions in the county legislative authority and the second would involve the filing of a petition calling for such an election signed by a number of county voters equal to ten percent of the voters who voted at the last preceding general election in the county. The present means of adopting a "home-rule" charter, described previously, would also remain in effect.

NOTE: The ballot title and explanatory statement were written by the Attorney General as required by state law. The complete text of House Joint Resolution 64 begins on Page 20.

Statement against

HJR 64 May Authorize Local Income Tax

Voters should carefully read the complete text of this deceptive constitutional amendment. The second paragraph of the proposed new section 17 states that a charter, upon adoption, shall supersede "all special laws inconsistent with such charter." This wide-open language could be interpreted to give counties broad new powers of taxation and regulation.

Local Control Will Be Undermined

The governor appoints all of the commissioners. Consequently, the content of the charters can be expected to emphasize the philosophy of the executive branch rather than that of the local citizen.

Costly New Commission Will Be Locked Into Our Constitution

We have too many costly commissions already, but this one will even have constitutional status. The commission is said to be temporary, but no expiration date is provided.

Dilutes Effectiveness of Present Freeholder Method

Our cherished and democratic freeholder method of framing a home rule charter is working well. Why cause confusion by adding another method?

HJR 64 Was Defeated In The Senate

The defects of this constitutional amendment were first recognized in the Senate where the measure was actually defeated in a roll call vote. However, subsequent parliamentary maneuvering resulted in its eventual passage. Now the citizens have their chance — a last chance — to defeat this measure. Vote "No" on HJR 64.

Rebuttal of Statement for HOME RULE? By the proponents' own admission the present system is working, as is evidenced by King County's successful use of the freeholder method.

SELF DETERMINATION? We would actually be sacrificing this important concept by relying upon a commission controlled by the governor.

PEOPLE POWER? Our founding fathers, who advocated the true concept of people power, would be shocked at HJR 64, which clearly shifts additional control and influence to Olympia. Vote "No" on HJR 64.

Initiative Measure 325

AN ACT Relating to the regulation of nuclear fission facilities; regulating the construction and operation of new nuclear fission power plants and related facilities and the disposition of radioactive and chemically toxic wastes; adding new sections to chapter 80.50 RCW; and creating new sections.

BE IT ENACTED BY THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF WASHINGTON:

NEW SECTION. Section 1. This act shall be known and may be cited as the Nuclear Safeguards Act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. Sections 3 through 12 of this act shall be added to and made a part of chapter 80.50 RCW.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. (1) The people of the state of Washington hereby find that nuclear fission power plants and related facilities connected with the manufacture, transportation, reprocessing, storage, and disposal of radioactive and chemically toxic materials from such plants have a profound effect on the planning for and the use of large areas of the state and may have a profoundly undesirable effect on the health and safety of the citizens of the state. The people hereby declare that nuclear fission power plants and related facilities connected with the manufacture, use, transportation, and storage of nuclear fuel must, for purposes of rational land use planning, be safely planned, constructed, maintained, and insured.

(2) The people of the state of Washington further declare that the wise and nonwasteful use of energy in this state is necessary for the continued health, safety, economic benefit, and well-being of the people.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. The people of the state of Washington further find and declare that substantial questions have been raised concerning the effect of nuclear fission power plants on land use planning and on public health and safety, which questions include but are not limited to:

(1) The reliability of the performance of the plants and related consequences in the areas of health, safety, economics, and security;

(2) The reliability of the emergency safety systems for the plants;

(3) The security of the plants against the release of potentially harmful substances into the environment due to both natural and human stimuli;

(4) The security of the systems of transportation, reprocessing, and disposal or storage of the waste of the plants from theft, sabotage, accident, acts of God, and other events;

(5) The state of knowledge and the practical application thereof regarding ways to safely and adequately dispose of the plants themselves at the conclusion of their operation and to safely store or dispose of the radioactive and chemically toxic waste products of the plants and related facilities during their operation;

(6) The effects of thermal emissions from the plants;

(7) The propriety of the creation by one generation of potentially catastrophic hazards for future generations, including, but not limited to, the radioactive and chemically toxic wastes from nuclear fission power plants; and

(8) Existing plans for the efficient evacuation of persons in the danger zone upon failure of or an accident involving a nuclear fission power plant, a related facility, or transportation of radioactive fuel or waste.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. The people of the state of Washington desire by sections 3 through 12 of this act to exercise the full power vested in them in the areas of land use planning, protection of health and safety, and otherwise.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. (1) A nuclear fission power plant or any facility connected with the manufacture, transportation, or storage of nuclear fission power plant fuel, or any nuclear fission power plant waste disposal or storage facility may be a permitted land use in the state of Washington and its waters; may be considered to be reasonably safe and susceptible to rational land use planning; may be certified, licensed, or permitted by the governor or any state or local agency; and may be constructed and operated in the state of Washington only after all of the following conditions are met:

(a) Any federally imposed limits on the liability of owners and operators of such plant or other facility for personal injury, property damage, and other economic loss resulting from the existence or operation of such plant or other facility have been removed by law or waived, so that full compensation is assured for the people and businesses of the state of Washington;

(b) The effectiveness of safety systems of such plant or other facility has, to the satisfaction of the legislature in accordance with the procedures specified in section 8 of this act, been demonstrated by comprehensive testing of substantially similar physical systems in actual operation;

(c) The radioactive and chemically toxic wastes from the plant can be stored or disposed of with no reasonable chance, as determined by the legislature in accordance with the procedures specified in section 8 of this act, of intentional or unintentional escape or diversion at a time during which such waste is radioactive or chemically toxic; and

(d) The legislature has determined in accordance with the procedures specified in section 8 of this act that there is a demonstrated need for the power from the plant, that such power cannot reasonably be supplied by another source, and that the best use of the land on which the plant is to be constructed is for a nuclear fission power plant.

(2) Until all of the conditions of subsection (1) of this section have been met:

(a) No application for a site certificate for a nuclear fission power plant or for authority to construct or operate any other facility connected with the manufacture, transportation, storage, or disposal of nuclear fission power plant fuel or waste may hereafter be approved by the governor or any state or local agency; and

(b) No construction may begin or continue on:

(i) Any nuclear fission power plant which has received site certification approved by the governor after February 10, 1976;

(ii) Any facilities connected with the manufacture, transportation, and storage of nuclear fission power plant fuel which have been authorized by the governor or any state or local agency after February 10, 1976; or

(iii) Any nuclear fission power plant waste disposal or storage facility which has been authorized by the governor or any state or local agency after February 10, 1976; and

(c) No municipal corporation in the state of Washington may design, construct, or operate a nuclear fission power plant or facilities related to a plant which has not received site certification prior to February 10, 1976; and no municipal corporation in the state of Washington may finance the design, construction, or operation of such plants and related facilities.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. The provisions of section 6 of this act shall not apply to small-scale nuclear fission reactors used solely for medical or experimental purposes.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. (1) The determinations of the legislature made pursuant to section 6(1) (b), (c), and (d) of this act shall be made only after findings are made as set out in this section and only by a vote of two-thirds of all the members elected to each house.

(2) To advise the legislature in making the findings required by this section, the Washington state thermal power plant site evaluation council or any successor body created under Washington law shall act in an advisory capacity and submit recommended findings to the legislature.

(a) The council or its successor shall receive all applications for a license to construct or operate a nuclear fission power plant, any facility connected with the manufacture, transportation, or storage of nuclear fission power plant fuel, or any nuclear fission power plant waste disposal or storage facility. The council or its successor shall immediately notify the legislature of all such applications.

(b) The council or its successor shall then submit recommended findings to the legislature regarding the determination to be made pursuant to section 6(1)(b), (c), and (d) of this act. In preparing these recommended findings, the council or its successor shall first solicit opinions from experts and interested parties and shall hold widely publicized hearings throughout the state. The hearings shall be publicized at least once a week during each of the two weeks preceding the hearing, in at least one newspaper of general circulation in the county where the hearing is to be held. At the hearings, the council or its successor shall give all persons an opportunity to cross-examine witnesses, within reasonable limits of time. Throughout the course of the hearings, the council or its successor shall cause objective information developed by it to be widely published through popular media and otherwise to the maximum extent feasible. After these hearings, the council or its successor shall make a report to the legislature, including minority reports, if necessary, not later than twenty-four months from the date the council or its successor received the application being considered. The final report shall contain the findings of the council or its successor and its recommendations regarding the determinations to be made by the legislature pursuant to section 6(1)(b), (c), and (d) of this act. The council or its successor shall prepare brief and simple summaries of its reports, and the summaries shall be widely published through popular news media and otherwise to the maximum extent feasible. Copies of the report shall be made available to the general public.

(3) (a) To insure full public participation in the determinations to be made pursuant to section 6(1)(b), (c), and (d) of this act, the legislature shall hold public hearings, giving full and adequate notice of such hearings throughout the state, and an opportunity to any person to testify. The legislature shall not hold the hearings until after publication of the reports specified in subsection (2)(b) of this section and shall not make the findings required by subsection (1) of this section until completion of the hearings required by this subsection (3)(a).

(b) All documents, records, studies, analyses, testimony, and materials submitted in conjunction with determinations specified in section 6(1)(b), (c), and (d) of this act to the legislature or to the council or its successor shall, except to the extent expressly prohibited by applicable law, be made available for inspection and copying by the general public.

(c) If, on the vote of the legislature respecting the determinations to be made pursuant to section 6(1)(b), (c), and (d) of this act, there is not a two-thirds affirmative vote in each house, then the legislature shall not again vote on such determinations unless and until the existence of new information so warrants.

(d) If, on the vote of the legislature regarding the determinations to be made pursuant to section 6(1)(b), (c), and (d) of this act, there is a two-thirds affirmative vote in each house, and if the council or its successor determines that the applicant has met the requirements of section 6(1)(a) of this act, the council or its successor shall issue a license to that applicant.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 9. (1) The governor shall cause to be annually published, publicized, and released to the news media and to the appropriate officials of affected communities, in a manner designed to inform residents of the affected communities to the maximum extent feasible, the entire evacuation plans specified in the licensing of each existing nuclear fission power plant in this state. Copies of such plans shall be made available to the members of the public upon request.

(2) The governor shall establish procedures for annual review by state and local officials of established evacuation plans with regard for, but not limited to, such factors as the adequacy of such plans and changes in traffic patterns, population densities, and new construction of schools, hospitals, industrial facilities, and similar facilities. Such procedures shall provide for full public participation in such reviews.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 10. The attorney general of the state of Washington shall enforce all the provisions of sections 3 through 12 of this act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 11. To the extent that any provision of sections 3 through 12 of this act are inconsistent with any other provision of Washington law, the provisions of sections 3 through 12 of this act shall apply.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 12. If any provision of sections 3 through 11 of this act or the application thereof to any person or circumstance is held invalid, such invalidity shall not affect any other provision or application of sections 3 through 11 of this act which can be given effect without such invalid provision or application, and, to this end, the provisions of sections 3 through 11 of this act are severable.

(c) By the state or any taxing district for the purpose of paying the principal or interest on general obligation bonds outstanding on December 6, 1934; or for the purpose of preventing the impairment of the obligation of a contract when ordered so to do by a court of last resort.

COUNTY GOVERNMENT AND TOWNSHIP ORGANIZATION. The legislature shall establish a system of county government, which shall be uniform throughout the state except as hereinafter provided, and by general laws shall provide for township organization, under which any county may organize whenever a majority of the qualified electors of such county voting at a general election shall so determine; and whenever a county shall adopt township organization, the assessment and collection of the revenue shall be made and the business of such county and the local affairs of the several townships therein, shall be managed and transacted in the manner prescribed by such general law.

Any county may frame a "Home Rule" charter for its own government subject to the Constitution and laws of this state, and for such purpose the legislative authority of such county may cause an election to be had, at which election there shall be chosen by the qualified voters of said county not less than fifteen (15) nor more than twenty-five (25) freeholders thereof, as determined by the legislative authority, who shall have been residents of said county for a period of at least five (5) years preceding their election and who are themselves qualified electors, whose duty it shall be to convene within thirty (30) days after their election and prepare and propose a charter for such county. Such proposed charter shall be submitted to the qualified electors of said county, and if a majority of such qualified electors voting thereon ratify the same, it shall become the charter of said county and shall become the organic law thereof, and supersede any existing charter, including amendments thereto, or any existing form of county government, and all special laws inconsistent with such charter. Said proposed charter shall be published in two (2) legal newspapers published in said county, at least once a week for four (4) consecutive weeks prior to the day of submitting the same to the electors for their approval as above provided. All elections in this section authorized shall only be had upon notice, which notice shall specify the object of calling such election and shall be given for at least ten (10) days before the day of election in all election districts of said county. Said elections may be general or special elections and except as herein provided, shall be governed by the law regulating and controlling general or special elections in said county. Such charter may be amended by proposals therefor submitted by the legislative authority of said county to the electors thereof at any general election after notice of such submission published as above specified, and ratified by a majority of the qualified electors voting thereon. In submitting any such charter or amendment thereto, any alternate article or proposition may be presented

BE IT RESOLVED, BY THE SENATE AND HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES OF THE STATE OF WASHINGTON, IN LEGISLATIVE SESSION ASSEMBLED:

THAT, At the next general election to be held in this state there shall be submitted to the qualified voters of the state for their approval and ratification, or rejection, an amendment to the Constitution of the state of Washington by adding a new section 17 to Article XI to read as follows:

NEW SECTION. Article XI, section 17. In addition to the methods of framing a "Home Rule" charter which are contained in section 4 of this Article, a charter may be framed as provided in this section. The legislature shall without delay enact legislation that creates the county home rule commission which under the supervision of the legislature shall draft at least three but not more than five model "Home Rule" charters, any one or more of which may be submitted to voters of the county for approval and ratification, or rejection, by either: (1) A resolution of the county legislative authority; or (2) the filing of a petition calling for such an election which is signed by registered voters of any such county equal in number to ten per centum of the voters voting at the last preceding general election in the county. The county home rule commission shall be a temporary commission which shall be appointed by the governor with one-third of the commissioners being members of the legislature, one-third of the commissioners being incumbent elected county officials, and one-third of the commissioners being members of the general public of the state. A new county home rule commission with the same membership qualifications shall be appointed by the governor to redraft any of the model "Home Rule" charters upon the adoption of a resolution by the legislature calling for such appointment.

Upon the approval and ratification of such a proposed "Home Rule" charter by a majority of the voters of the county who vote on such a proposition, the charter shall become the organic law of the county and supersede any existing charter, including amendments thereto, or any existing form of county government, and all special laws inconsistent with such charter.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That the secretary of state shall cause notice of the foregoing constitutional amendment to be published at least four times during the four weeks next preceding the election in every legal newspaper in the state.

 EXISTING CONSTITUTIONAL PROVISIONS	NOTE: The proposed constitutional amendment which appears on this page repeals or modifies the effect of other provisions of the state constitution. These affected provisions are printed in the left-hand column of the page so that voters may readily compare them to the proposed changes, in the right-hand column of the page, and determine how the existing constitutional language would be affected. for the choice of the voters and may be voted on separately without prejudice to others.

Any home rule charter proposed as herein provided, may provide for such county officers as may be deemed necessary to carry out and perform all county functions as provided by charter or by general law, and for their compensation, but shall not affect the election of the prosecuting attorney, the county superintendent of schools, the judges of the superior court, and the justices of the peace, or the jurisdiction of the courts.

Notwithstanding the foregoing provision for the calling of an election by the legislative authority of such county for the election of freeholders to frame a county charter, registered voters equal in number to ten (10) per centum of the voters of any such county voting at the last preceding general election, may at any time propose by petition the calling of an election of freeholders. The petition shall be filed with the county auditor of the county at least three (3) months before any general election and the proposal that a board of freeholders be elected for the purpose of framing a county charter shall be submitted to the vote of the people at said general election, and at the same election a board of freeholders of not less than fifteen (15) or more than twenty-five (25), as fixed in the petition calling for the election, shall be chosen to draft the new charter. The procedure for the nomination of qualified electors as candidates for said board of freeholders shall be prescribed by the legislative authority of the county, and the procedure for the framing of the charter and the submission of the charter as framed shall be the same as in the case of a board of freeholders chosen at an election initiated by the legislative authority of the county.

In calling for any election of freeholders as provided in this section the legislative authority of the county shall apportion the number of freeholders to be elected in accordance with either the legislative districts or the county commissioner districts, if any, within said county, the number of said freeholders to be elected from each of said districts to be in proportion to the population of said districts as nearly as may be.

Should the charter proposed receive the affirmative vote of the majority of the electors voting thereon, the legislative authority of the county shall immediately call such special election as may be provided for therein, if any, and the county government shall be established in accordance with the terms of said charter not more than six (6) months after the election at which the charter was adopted.

The terms of all elective officers, except the prosecuting attorney, the county superintendent of schools, the judges of the superior court, and the justices of the peace, who are in office at the time of the adoption of a Home Rule Charter shall terminate as provided in the charter. All appointive officers in office at the time the charter goes into effect, whose positions are not abolished thereby, shall continue until their successors shall have qualified.

After the adoption of such charter, such county shall continue to have all the rights, powers, privileges and benefits then possessed or hereafter conferred by general law. All the powers, authority and duties granted to and imposed on county officers by general law, except the prosecuting attorney, the county superintendent of schools, the judges of the superior court and the justices of the peace, shall be vested in the legislative authority of the county unless expressly vested in specific officers by the charter. The legislative authority may by resolution delegate any of its executive or administrative powers, authority or duties not expressly vested in specific officers by the charter, to any county officer or officers or county employee or employees.

The provisions of sections 5, 6, 7, and the first sentence of section 8 of this Article as amended shall not apply to counties in which the government has been established by charter adopted under the provisions hereof. The authority conferred on the board of county commissioners by Section 15 of Article II as amended, shall be exercised by the legislative authority of the county.

How to Obtain an Absentee Ballot:

Any registered voter who cannot vote in person may apply directly to his county auditor or department of elections for an absentee ballot. Any signed request containing the necessary information will be honored. For your convenience, an application is reproduced below. The addresses of the auditors or departments of election are also listed below. In order to be certain that the voters' application is authentic, the election laws require that the signature on the application be verified by comparison with the signature on the voter's permanent registration record. For this reason, if a husband and wife both wish to vote by absentee ballot, separate, signed requests should be submitted. An additional absentee ballot request form can be found on the inside front cover of this pamphlet. In order to be counted, an absentee ballot must be voted and postmarked no later than the day of the election. For this reason, sufficient time must be allowed for an exchange of correspondence with the county auditor or department of elections.
