How to Obtain an Absentee Ballot:

Any registered voter who cannot vote in person may apply directly to his or her county auditor or department of elections for an absentee ballot. Any signed request containing the necessary information will be honored. For your convenience, an application is reproduced below. The addresses of the auditors or departments of election are also listed below. In order to be certain that the voters' application is authentic, the election laws require that the signature on the application be verified by comparison with the signature on the voter's permanent registration record. For this reason, if a husband and wife both wish to vote by absentee ballot, separate, signed requests should be submitted. An additional copy of this application form is printed in the inside back cover of this pamphlet. In order to be counted, an absentee ballot must be voted and postmarked no later than the day of the election. For this reason, sufficient time must be allowed for an exchange of correspondence with the county auditor or department of elections.

1978 Official Voters and Candidates Pamphlet

On November 7, you will have the opportunity to vote on a statewide initiative measure and on federal, state, and local offices. This voters' and candidates' pamphlet is sent to you and all other residents of Washington State to assist you in making informed decisions on those measures and candidates which will appear on the ballot statewide.

The first section of the pamphlet contains the official ballot title and explanatory statement for the initiative as prepared by the Attorney General. Statements "for" and "against" and rebuttal statements for each argument have been prepared by both the proponents and opponents of this measure, as prescribed by law. The second section of the pamphlet contains the statements and photographs of candidates for federal, state, and legislative office. This section of the pamphlet is divided into seven geographic editions for the convenience of publication.

As Secretary of State of the State of Washington, I certify that the text of each proposed measure, ballot title, explanatory statement, statement for and against, rebuttal statement and candidate's statement which appears in the pamphlet is a true and correct copy of the original document filed in my office. Witness my hand and the seal of the State of Washington.

Initiative Measure 350

TO THE PEOPLE

Official Ballot Title:

Shall public educational authorities be prohibited from assigning students to other than the nearest or next-nearest school with limited exceptions?

The Law as it now exists:

Under existing law, school districts have broad control over matters that affect the assignment of students to schools.

Each school district board of directors has the authority to adopt reasonable regulations which establish attendance areas, the grades to be offered at a given school, and otherwise directly or indirectly determine which schools within the district students shall attend.

Statement for

Over 180,000 citizens from around the state signed Initiative petitions to enable you to decide whether forced school busing is either wise or necessary.

350 PROTECTS LOCAL CONTROL OF SCHOOLS

Initiative 350 returns the most basic decision in education (i.e., where a child is to be educated) to the parent. 350 keeps local parental control of schools from being subverted by federal bureaucrats and promoters of forced busing.

Initiative 350 ensures that smaller school districts and rural school districts will not have their transportation funds reduced to pay for forced busing in Washington cities.

350 PRESERVES LOCAL NEIGHBORHOOD SCHOOLS

Initiative 350 guarantees children the right to attend the school nearest or next nearest their home. It is carefully worded so as to permit exceptions (such as special education of the handicapped student, health or safety hazards, physical barriers, unsafe conditions or overcrowding). Current essential busing in rural areas, for example, would not be affected. 350 permits the voluntary attendance of students in open enrollment or magnet programs, also.

350 SAVES TAX DOLLARS

Voters can prevent millions of tax dollars from being wasted this school year on forced busing. Those dollars could be spent on better classroom education. Children are not being taught the basics while they are unnecessarily riding a bus across town (past the school nearest their home).

350 IS EXERCISING YOUR LEGAL AND CONSTITUTIONAL RIGHT TO CHOOSE

You have the choice between bureaucratic control and common sense. Forced busing in our state has not been ordered by the Courts . . . BUT is another product of pressure by the pro-busing lobby on local administrators. Exercise your freedom of choice and VOTE "YES" ON INITIATIVE 350.

Rebuttal of Statement against

Initiative 350 keeps local, neighborhood schools from coming under the control of bureaucratic busing planners. The opponents' argument avoids the real issue, i.e., the value of forced school busing. Busing children away from the school nearest their home does not make common sense. Forced busing nonsense is financed by state taxes. Your tax dollars would pay for cross-city busing. Initiative 350 is carefully written to return local control of schools to parents (where it belongs).

Voters' Pamphlet Statement Prepared by:

HUBERT F. DONOHUE, State Senator; JIM MATSON, State Senator; WILLIAM M. POLK, State Representative.

Advisory Committee: ORVILLE L. BARNES, Member, State Board of Education; J. DORM BRAMAN, former Mayor, City of Seattle; WILLIAM L. WILKINS, retired Judge, King County Superior Court; ROBERT O. DORSE, President, Citizens for Voluntary Integration Committee (CIVIC).

The effect of Initiative 350, if approved into Law:

Initiative Measure 350, if approved, would limit the control of school officials over the assignment of students to particular schools.

This initiative would prohibit school officials from either directly or indirectly requiring a student to attend a school other than the school which is geographically the nearest or next-nearest the student's residence within the school district and which offers the course of study pursued by the student. The types of "indirect" action that would be prohibited if the action would prevent a student from attending his or her nearest or next-nearest school include, but are not limited to, plans involving: (1) The redefining of attendance zones; (2) feeder schools; (3) the reorganization of the grade structure of the schools; (4) the pairing of schools; (5) the merging of schools; (6) the clustering of schools; or (7) any other combination of grade restructuring, pairing, merging or clustering.

This initiative would allow school officials to require a student to attend a school other than the school nearest or next-nearest the student's residence only in the following instances: (1) If a student requires special education, care or guidance; (2) if there are health or safety hazards or physical barriers or obstacles between the student's residence and the nearest or next-nearest school; or (3) if the nearest or next-nearest school is unfit or inadequate because of overcrowding, unsafe conditions or lack of physical facilities. If a student is assigned to a school other than the school nearest or next-nearest the student's residence because of one or more of these reasons, the assignment must be to the next geographically nearest school within the school district with the necessary courses and facilities.

This initiative does not affect the right of a student voluntarily to attend a school other than the school nearest or next-nearest the student's residence or the right of school districts to close school facilities.

NOTE: The ballot title and explanatory statement were written by the Attorney General as required by state law. The complete text of Initiative Measure 350 begins on page 6.

Statement against

INITIATIVE 350 WOULD INTERFERE WITH EFFICIENT LOCAL CONTROL OF EDUCATION

350 would hamper local management in all of the state's school districts by taking away the authority of locally elected school boards to assign students in an educationally and economically sound manner. It would disrupt schools in the middle of this school year.

350 prohibits assignment of students outside their district; thus, it would restrict interdistrict cooperative programs.

350 would in some cases prohibit changing the grades offered in particular schools, such as converting some three-year to four-year high schools. It would prohibit most disciplinary transfers and the redrawing of school boundary lines to make efficient use of buildings. It would mean costly interference with location of special education programs. Because it is so poorly drafted, 350 would trigger costly court battles, interfere with school operation, and would present many implementation problems.

350 WOULD CAUSE SEGREGATION AND FEDERAL COURT INTERFERENCE JUST TO SOLVE A SEATTLE PROBLEM

350 was specifically written to rescind Seattle's locally developed desegregation plan.

Applying 350 to Seattle, Tacoma, Pasco, and other desegregated school districts would significantly increase racial segregation. This resegregation of schools could easily result in the initiative being found unconstitutional. This would mean that desegregation plans in Seattle and elsewhere would continue but the rest of the state would still be saddled with the initiative.

350 litigation could lead to court ordered busing between Seattle and surrounding districts, as well as to court imposed costs to the State.

The best way to avoid interference with local control of your own school policies and the possibility of court ordered busing is to vote no on 350.

Rebuttal of Statement for Initiative 350 threatens every school district. 350 restricts all school districts' power of pupil assignment, severely damaging local control. 350 could require massive school closures, and increased, not decreased, mandatory busing. By restricting local options, 350 would increase, not decrease, bureaucratic control. 350 would cause extensive and expensive court battles which would burden Washington taxpayers. To save neighborhood schools, keep costs down, and prevent elaborate court-ordered busing plans, vote NO on 350.

Voters' Pamphlet Statement Prepared by:

JOHN S. MURRAY, State Senator; ALAN THOMPSON, State Representative; EBEN CARLSON, Chairman, State Committee for Local Control.

Advisory Committee: DR. FRANK B. BROUILLET, Superintendent of Public Instruction; CAROL COE, President, Washington Education Association; DR. GEORGE T. DANIEL, President, Washington Association of School Administrators; DAVID J. WHITMORE, President, Washington State School Directors' Association; WALTER H. LEWIS, State Board of Education.

Initiative Measure 350

AN ACT Relating to school attendance; creating new sections; adding new sections to chapter 223, Laws of 1969 ex. sess. and a new chapter to Title 28A RCW; and providing penalties.

BE IT ENACTED BY THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF WASHINGTON:

NEW SECTION. Section 1. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, after the effective date of this act no school board, school district, educational service district board, educational service district, or county committee, nor the superintendent of public instruction, nor the state board of education, nor any of their respective employees, agents or delegates shall directly or indirectly require any student to attend a school other than the school which is geographically nearest or next nearest the student's place of residence within the school district of his or her residence and which offers the course of study pursued by such student, except in the following instances:

(1) If a student requires special education, care or guidance, he may be assigned and transported to the school offering courses and facilities for such special education, care or guidance;

(2) If there are health or safety hazards, either natural or man made, or physical barriers or obstacles, either natural or man made, between the student's place of residence and the nearest or next nearest school; or

(3) If the school nearest or next nearest to his place of residence is unfit or inadequate because of overcrowding, unsafe conditions or lack of physical facilities.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. In every such instance where a student is assigned and transported to a school other than the one nearest his place of residence, he shall be assigned and transported to the next geographically nearest school with the necessary and applicable courses and facilities within the school district of his or her residence.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. For purposes of section 1 of this act, "indirectly require any student to attend a school other than the school which is geographically nearest or next nearest the student's place of residence within the school district of his or her residence and which offers the course of study pursued by such student" includes, but is not limited to, implementing, continuing, pursuing, maintaining or operating any plan involving (1) the redefining of attendance zones; (2) feeder schools; (3) the re-organization of the grade structure of the schools; (4) the pairing of schools; (5) the merging of schools; (6) the clustering of schools; or (7) any other combination of grade restructuring, pairing, merging or clustering: PROVIDED, That nothing in this chapter shall limit the authority of any school district to close school facilities.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. For the purposes of section 1 of this act "special education, care or guidance" includes the education, care or guidance of students who are physically, mentally or emotionally handicapped.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. The prohibitions of this chapter shall not preclude the establishment of schools offering specialized or enriched educational programs which students may voluntarily choose to attend, or of any other voluntary option offered to students.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. This chapter shall not prevent any court of competent jurisdiction from adjudicating constitutional issues relating to the public schools.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. Sections 1 through 6 of this act are added to chapter 223, Laws of 1969 ex. sess. and shall constitute a new chapter in Title 28A RCW.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. If any provision of this act, or its application to any person or circumstance is held invalid, the remainder of the act, or the application of the provision to other persons or circumstances is not affected.

THE OFFICE OF PRECINCT COMMITTEEMAN

In addition to the various state and county offices which will appear upon the general election ballot, most voters will have the opportunity to vote for the office of "precinct committeeman". At the 1977 session of the state legislature, the laws governing the official candidates' pamphlet were amended to provide for the inclusion of this description of the office of precinct committeeman and the duties and responsibilities of persons elected to that office.

WHO IS ELIGIBLE

State law (RCW 29.42.040) provides that any person who is a registered voter and a member of a major political party may become a candidate for the office of precinct committeeman by filing a declaration of candidacy and paying a one dollar filing fee to the county auditor. Since voters do not register by political party in Washington, a candidate declares himself or herself to be a Democrat or a Republican at the time he or she files for the office. The filing period for the office of precinct committeeman begins at the same time as the filing period for other partisan offices (the last Monday in July in even-numbered years), and lasts for three weeks, ending on the third Friday following that date.

ELECTION OF PRECINCT COMMITTEEMEN

Candidates for precinct committeeman do not appear on the primary ballot but rather are placed directly on the general election ballot, and the candidate receiving the most votes in his or her precinct for each political party is declared elected. State law (RCW 29.42.050) does provide, however, that to be declared elected, a candidate must receive at least ten percent (10%) of the number of votes cast for the candidate of his or her party receiving the greatest number of votes in that precinct.

TERM OF OFFICE AND VACANCIES

The term of office for anyone elected to the office of precinct committeeman is two years, and commences upon the official canvass of election returns by the county canvassing board. Should a vacancy occur in the office (caused by death, disqualification, resignation, or failure to elect), the usual process is for the chairman of the party central committee to fill the vacancy by appointment. Appointments to fill vacancies cannot be made between the state general election and the organization meeting of the county central committee, which must be held prior to the second Saturday in January following the election of precinct committeemen.

DUTIES OF PRECINCT COMMITTEEMEN AS MEMBERS OF THE COUNTY AND STATE CENTRAL COMMITTEES

1. Each precinct committeeman is a member of the county central committee. The county central committee has the authority to fill vacancies on the party ticket for partisan county offices and for legislative offices in districts entirely within that county when no candidate files for such a position or when a candidate or nominee dies or is disqualified leaving no candidate of that party for such an office; they may also nominate persons for appointment to these offices if an incumbent of that party resigns.

2. The state central committee has the authority under state law (RCW 29.42.020) to:
 - Call caucuses and conventions.
 - Provide for the election of delegates to national nominating conventions.
 - Fill vacancies on the party ticket for any federal, state or legislative office which encompasses more than one county.
 - Nominate persons to fill vacancies in state or legislative offices caused by resignation or death of an incumbent of that party.
 - Provide for the nomination of presidential electors.
 - Perform other functions inherent in such an organization.

NON-STATUTORY DUTIES AND RESPONSIBILITIES OF PRECINCT COMMITTEEMEN

Specific duties and responsibilities of a precinct committeeman are usually determined by either the county or state central committees. The following duties are commonly assigned to precinct committeemen by their party organization:

- Keep informed on current issues and candidates, study the party platform.
- Attend meetings of county committees and actively participate in fund-raising activities.
- Obtain lists of registered voters from the County Auditor's office.
- Canvass the precinct and become acquainted with the voters residing therein.
- Establish a record of eligible voters and party members within the precinct.
- Encourage voter registration within the precinct.
- Distribute party election materials during election campaigns.
- Recommend party members to work as precinct election officers.
- Encourage voters to get out and vote on election day.
- Encourage the use of absentee ballots, when the need arises.
- Hold precinct caucuses at certain selected times for the purpose of adopting resolutions and selecting delegates to the county conventions.

Individuals who are interested in serving as precinct committeemen should contact the chairman of the county central committee of their party or the state committee office of that party. Their addresses are as follows:

John Nance
GARNER
Republican

As a small businessman with his own independent insurance agency in Everett, John Nance Garner is no stranger to hard work — the kind of hard work it will take to be an effective Congressman.

Born and raised on a small Washington farm, he started his working career at the age of 13 as a janitor and messenger. He also became an Eagle Scout.

In college, John majored in Business Administration and Communications at Eastern Washington University.

Following graduation, John received his commission in the U.S. Army. He continues to serve in the Army Active Reserve as a Lieutenant Colonel and is President of the Snohomish County Reserve Officers Association.

Now 44, John is active in community and church affairs. He is a member of the National Congressional Advisory Council and has served on the National Advisory Commission on Oceans and Atmosphere. He knows his way around Washington, D.C., and how the system works.

John Nance Garner is concerned about the size of government and the amount you have to pay for it. He is the only candidate who supports a 10-percent reduction in the number of Federal civilian personnel and a 33-percent across-the-board tax cut (the Kemp-Roth Bill).

"Inflation must be controlled if we are to improve our quality of life and the place to start is by reducing government spending," he says.

Long ago, John called on Congress to nullify the Boldt Decision and give all fishermen an equal chance to catch salmon and steelhead outside the Indian reservations.

He believes we must responsibly manage our forests to achieve a harmonious blend of land available for family recreation, timber production, and wilderness.

John Nance Garner and his wife, Marlene, a fifth-grade school teacher in Marysville, have two children, Lorelei and John, Jr.

Al
Democrat

Al Swift is a leader in his own community. He'll be a congressman for all of us. Al won several awards as Public Affairs Director for KVOS-TV in Bellingham. His wife, Paula, is a school teacher, and the Swifts have two daughters.

Al has gotten things done by working well with his neighbors. Al Swift helped revise the Bellingham City Charter, served on the Bellingham Housing Authority, and was Chairman of the Citizens Committee on the Bellingham Schools. In 1965-69, he served as chief of staff to Rep. Lloyd Meeds.

"We can cut spending, and Congress should go first," said Swift. "Congress should set an example by restraining its own salaries and expenses. After restricting itself, Congress will be in a better position to ask other people to accept the restraints in spending necessary to curb inflation." Swift's budget priorities are education, seniors, and a responsible national defense.

Al Swift favors a moratorium on the Boldt Decision until the Supreme Court acts. He feels Congress should examine all aspects of treaties.

Swift supports a tax cut and wants the income tax rates "indexed" to reflect the cost of living, rather than absolute dollars. He favors reducing capital gains taxes to stimulate new plant investment and more jobs. He opposes log exports and supports a gradual change to create more mill jobs. Swift wants Congress to accelerate research on alternative energy sources and feels the job can't be left to the energy industry.

Swift has specific plans to curb over-regulation and wants Congress to supervise agency rules before they go into effect. Al Swift is a leader who will listen to all of us and work for all of us.

Rick
BENNETT
Republican

The voting record of incumbent liberal congressman Bonker is a disgrace. He voted for foreign aid to Cuba and Vietnam; supports the giveaway of the Panama Canal; supported amnesty for draft dodgers but voted against the B-1 Bomber; believes "we must see that the Boldt decision is carried out"; is a compulsive spender; has voted against meaningful tax cuts; and according to fellow Democrat Bert Cole, "He certainly is not representing the district. He is more interested in his own beliefs and in Africa than he is in his own district." This irresponsible man should not be returned to Congress.

Rick Bennett is a successful small businessman who has sparked the imagination of people all over the country with innovative energy proposals. A popular television talk-show guest, Bennett has appeared on the Mike Douglas Show, the MacNeil-Lehrer Report, ABC's Good Morning America, NBC's Today Show, and NBC's Tomorrow Show. Rick Bennett will be just as articulate in selling Congress his vision of what America can become as he has been in creating a brand new electronics industry.

Bennett supports the Kemp-Roth 33% tax cut (which Bonker opposes), supports Jack Cunningham's bill to make the Steelhead a national game fish (which Bonker opposes), supports a strong national defense (which Bonker has voted to weaken), and would vote to impeach Andrew Young.

Rick Bennett's energy and welfare reform proposals won't cost the taxpayer a cent, yet will make us totally independent of Arab oil in 3 to 5 years, and will finally end the welfare cycle that has kept minorities in poverty and the government's hand in your pocket.

California's Proposition 13 proves the little guy can win! Send those liberals in Washington a similar message. Send Rick Bennett to Congress.

Don
Democrat

A proven record of integrity, independent-minded voting and effective hard work have marked Don Bonker's first four years in Congress. Part of the post-Watergate "new breed" of Congressmen, Don Bonker listens to his constituents and to his conscience and turns a deaf ear to the loud voices of special interests in the nation's capitol.

Since you voted to return Don Bonker to Congress in 1976, he has worked to reduce taxes, cut unemployment, eliminate government red tape, and reduce the federal budget deficit. But Don Bonker will not rest until something is done about inflation.

Don Bonker feels Proposition 13 was predictable, in view of the intolerably high property tax assessments in California, but what began as a legitimate movement has become an excuse to create more loopholes and inequities in our tax system. He remains committed to fair and honest tax relief, including a reduction in the social security payroll tax, the most regressive and fastest-growing tax of all.

Don Bonker also believes that government red tape should not inhibit our economic growth. While certain regulations are necessary, he will demand an end to government paperwork and rules which serve no real purpose.

Don Bonker will continue to listen to your concerns and to seek sensible, workable solutions. He maintains three district offices, conducts regular constituent meetings and town hall sessions, and returns to the Third District monthly. His record of helping individual citizens and small businessmen is impressive. His commitment to keeping the timber and wood products industry and our fishery resource the economic base of the Northwest is unmatched.

Don Bonker works hard for the Third District because he cares. His perseverance, integrity and dedication to the public interest make him a Representative you can be proud to have serving you.

James E.
BEAVER
Republican

James Beaver, senior law professor at the University of Puget Sound, had a distinguished career at Wesleyan University (second in class), University of Vienna, and University of Chicago Law School (first in class). He was a trial lawyer for eight years, has taught law for thirteen years, and has published widely. He belongs to the Washington State, Illinois, Indiana, and United States Supreme Court Bars.

Beaver believes federal income taxes must be reduced across the board. He will support the Kemp-Roth Bill to cut income taxes by one-third.

To curb inflation, we need growth and jobs in the private sector, together with reduced federal government spending and a balanced budget. Present government policies have created inflation, tight credit, and high interest rates. It is our elected representatives who spend $10,000 per taxpayer per year, and still wind up with a federal deficit of $2,000 per taxpayer per year. That means more inflation, so that nobody, not even American citizens, chooses the dollar as a store of value. Americans are taxed at ever-increasing rates and are in a condition of downward economic mobility.

Jim favors curtailing bureaucracy and rescinding excess government regulations. Money spent for excessive regulation, unnecessary programs, and boondoggles, has to come from the pockets of individual taxpaying citizens; meanwhile, the price of hamburger mounts from 49¢ to $1.19.

Jim Beaver is concerned with the general interest of all, rather than just the special interests of few. He wants to preserve our federal system of the separation of powers, which is essential to individual freedom and liberty in a system of order.

Beaver favors a strong national defense, based on superiority, not equality. He believes that our foreign policy should more strongly favor our own country and our friends than it does now.

Norman D.
DICKS
Democrat

Norm Dicks had a great first term in Congress.

The Speaker of the House, Thomas P. "Tip" O'Neill, considers Norm one of the top five new Congressmen. He says: "It takes a lot of hard work to be a great Congressman, and it usually takes a little time. But Norm Dicks has made us all sit up and take notice. He is truly one of the best new Congressmen I've ever seen in my

25 years of service in the U.S. House of Representatives."

In Congress, Norm quickly solved many problems that had plagued the Sixth Congressional District for years: In Pierce County, he successfully completed Tacoma's 23-year struggle to get easy access from I-5 to downtown Tacoma. The Tacoma Spur will provide many construction jobs and bolster the economy of Tacoma; in South King County, Norm saved Boeing's military hydrofoil program—and with it several thousand jobs. He also helped make Auburn's long awaited new City Hall a reality; in Kitsap County, he blocked attempts to cut off Trident impact funds—money needed to build roads, schools and provide other vital services.

Norm's an uncommonly accessible Congressman. He comes home at least twice a month. He's opened offices throughout the district to make it easy for constituents to reach him with their problems and concerns. His district day meetings are frequent and well-attended.

The Tacoma News Tribune says that Norm: "... doesn't try to get around the hard questions with soft answers. He comes back with solid, unequivocal answers." (4/24/77)

Senator Henry M. Jackson says: "Norm just keeps on working and doesn't quit until he gets results. We're all fortunate to have Norm Dicks in Congress."

That's Norm Dicks: hard-hitting, hard-working and very effective.

Mary K.
SMITH
Socialist Workers

Inflation and rising taxes have slashed the buying power of the American worker. Millions of people remain unemployed, but there is plenty of work to do. Our cities are in decay; our water and air are full of industrial pollution; schools, day-care centers and health services are in short supply.

While the Democrats and Republicans in government tell us there is no money for the schools and hospitals we need, they dole out billions of dollars to corporations in tax loopholes, subsidies, loans and grants. They spend $126 billion in one year on military hardware. We propose using this money to meet our pressing social needs.

Minorities and women need tough affirmative action programs, backed up by quotas that can be enforced, to overcome the centuries of racist and sexist discrimination they have faced. Women, Blacks and other minorities should be the first hired under a public works program to create jobs for all at union wages.

The Socialist Workers Campaign says ratify the ERA and extend the deadline. We demand that the Boldt decision be enforced and Indian treaty rights be honored.

Working people are the victims of pollution and environmental decay. Corporate industry makes billions of dollars in profits by refusing to clean up its waste. Working people can end pollution by joining together to demand that the profits be taken out of polluting. We demand an end to all forms of nuclear energy.

We are for a society free from hunger, poverty and discrimination. A society not plagued with wars and unemployment. A society organized by the majority of working people in the interests of the majority. These goals will only be achieved when unionists, women and minorities break with the Democratic and Republican parties and rely on their own strength in the political arena.

State Supreme Court

State of Washington

William H.
WILLIAMS
Nonpartisan

Each year, the responsibilities of the state's highest Court increase. Therefore, 'experience . . . where it counts' is the issue that is most important when you make your selection of Supreme Court Justice. Judge Williams, a man of 56, has served 20 years as Superior Court Judge. In addition, he has twice been Justice Pro Tem of the Supreme Court, served as Deputy Prosecuting Attorney for Spokane County, as Juvenile Court Judge, and in private practice of law.

Judge Williams enjoys the endorsement of many attorneys on both sides of the state, as well as that of Frank Hale and Robert Hunter, both retired Supreme Court Justices and co-chairmen of his committee. He was elected by his fellow judges and served as president of the Washington State Judges Association, and he now is chairman of the Judicial Ethics and Grievance Committee.

During WW II, Williams piloted a B24 bomber on 28 combat missions over Europe. A Spokane native, he is a graduate of the University of Idaho and received his law degree from Gonzaga University. Married and the father of five children, Williams has been active in the law since 1951.

Francis E.
HOLMAN
Nonpartisan

Judge Francis E. Holman, recognized among the state's leading lawyers and jurists, is 63 years old, married, with three children; educated in the Seattle Public Schools; graduated from Stanford, Oxford and Harvard Law School; served overseas in World War II with the state's 41st Infantry Division, and had active duty in the Korean War.

Judge Holman's experience has not been narrowly confined to the law. He has served in all three branches of government at both state and local levels, including: state representative and senator; mayor; member, Seattle's Metro Council; school director; hospital trustee; chairman, Carman Scholarship Committee. His accomplishments for public and private education are known statewide.

As first Chairman of the Public Disclosure Commission, Holman provided the essential leadership for implementing Initiative 276.

Judge Holman's 37 years in the legal profession include: membership on the Senate Judiciary Committee; American, Washington State and King County Bar Associations; and the American Judicature Society. Currently, he serves on the State Judicial Council and represents our state on the national Uniform Law Commission. Appointed Superior Court Judge for King County in 1973, he was twice re-elected without opposition, and is a graduate of the National College for the State Judiciary.

Representative Wayne Ehlers has dedicated himself to listening to the people of the 2nd District and voicing their feelings in the Legislature. Through questionnaires, mail, and personal contact, Wayne has been responsive to the needs of the 2nd District. He has worked for property tax reform. Wayne has continued to advocate good use of taxpayers' dollars as prime sponsor of the Sunset legislation. The cost of financing public schools rests with the state, not individual property holders.

More than ever, we need positive, problem-solving leadership. Representative Ehlers believes that those in Olympia were elected to serve, not to be served.

Phyllis K. Erickson, a 25 year resident of the 2nd District and third-term Legislator, has established a record of listening to the people and devoting time to constructive efforts to help resolve some of the major problems in her district and in the state.

Phyllis' record shows informed support for fair taxation, legislative reform, fiscal integrity in government and sensible planning for Washington's future.

Phyllis believes our government must be honest, open and prudent in its spending practices. It should respond to the needs of the people, but interfere as little as possible in their lives and affairs.

Sim
Republican

Sim Wilson is seeking re-election to a fourth term as 10th District Representative. Wilson is a life-long resident of the district, a local small businessman publishing weekly newspapers—The Marysville Globe and The Arlington Times—and is active in civic and service organizations.

Wilson feels the chief issues to face the legislature are: property tax changes to ease the pressures on the homeowner; keeping the state budget within current tax income; solving the problems plaguing our timber and fisheries industries. Wilson serves on the Transportation, Energy and Utilities, and Natural Resources Committees.

Rita
MATHENY
Democrat

As a homemaker, Rita is concerned about the same pocketbook issues that affect us all. She knows that income has not kept pace with costs for most of us. She is concerned about rapidly increasing property valuations, high interest rates, escalating costs of energy and health care, and the ever increasing cost of government. This spiralling cost needs to be checked and Rita has pledged to work to cut costs wherever possible.

Rita realizes these are all complex problems and admits there are no simple solutions. But she does promise to be your full-time representative, working hard to find solutions.

Republican

Concerned about the cost of living, government spending, education and property taxes, Joan feels the voters of the district are entitled to have a no-nonsense legislator who will listen to all sides of an issue and make decisions for young people, working people and senior citizens, not just special interest groups. She believes in real tax limitations rather than band-aid proposals.

Because she has children in school, a working husband, operates a small family farm and has senior citizen parents living close by, Joan has first-hand knowledge of the problems facing the people in her district.

Eleanor A.
FORTSON
Democrat

During the years she has lived and worked in the 10th District, Eleanor Fortson has compiled an outstanding record of community services and legislative achievement. Representative Fortson, who holds a Masters Degree in Administration, is currently Chairman of the House Constitutions Committee, serves as Chairman of the Social and Health Services Committee's Subcommittee on Aging and serves on the Education Committee. Rep. Fortson is the vice-president of the Oceanographic Commission. Eleanor Fortson serves her entire district well and will continue to work to cut excessive spending and put a lid on taxation.

Sharon

Democrat

Taxes — The elderly — Education — Government bureaucracy. These are your concerns, and they are the concerns of Sharon Shrader.

She believes we must hold the line on taxes and restrict the expansion of state government. Our senior citizens need property tax relief to encourage their independence and protect their dignity.

Education decisions need to remain at the local level as schools move toward full-state funding. Sharon insists that we must do more than talk about the growing state bureaucracies: We must control them.

Sharon's effective leadership in local government means, "She's the one who can make a difference."

Mrs. Schmidt is committed to the elimination of the runaway growth of what the Associated Press calls, "Washington's burgeoning state government", to the end of duplication of agencies and services, and the resultant waste. She supports spending and tax limitations as provided by Dunlap-Craswell Initiatives 62 and 65, with the addition of a lid on property evaluations to end the inflationary spiral of rising appraisals.

"Taxpayers are fed up with being unwilling buyers of unwanted, substandard, 'services'," Karen contends, "and business is under-represented and over-regulated."

Democrat

Rick Smith, 36, a Silverdale attorney, is House Judiciary Committee Chairman and a member of the Natural Resources Committee. Rick and his wife, Janice, have a daughter, Heather, and a son, Erin.

Rick has proven himself one of the quieter, more effective members of the House. His six-year record of accomplishments include: laws protecting Puget Sound from oil supertankers, pension reform saving $900 million over the next 20 years, reinstating capital punishment, a bill to simplify and reduce the cost of probate, helping to eliminate school dependence on special levies.

He pledges to promote stable school funding.

Democrat

Representative George Walk has established a record of listening to the people and responding to their concerns. He has sought constituent opinions through questionnaires, mailings and personal contact; and he has voiced those opinions to the Legislature.

George has worked to maintain local control of public schools while decreasing reliance on special levies for school support. As Chairman of the House Subcommittee on Sunset, he has worked to assure careful legislative review of governmental programs.

During his first term, George has served on the Transportation, State Government and Commerce Committees. He and his wife, Jill, reside in Puyallup.

Democrat

Dan Grimm, 29, has served two years as a State Representative. He is a native of Puyallup and graduated from Columbia University in 1972, where he was an honor student and varsity football player. His professional career is in personnel management.

During his first term, Dan was elected Assistant Majority Whip of the House. He also serves on the Appropriations, Energy, and Higher Education committees.

"My goals for a second term are to continue building on the accomplishments of my first session—fully funding education, limiting school levies, providing tax relief for seniors, controlling state spending, and personally helping constituents."

State Senator

Art GALLAGHAN
Republican

During the twenty years Art Gallagher has lived on the Peninsula, he's spent countless hours in community service to make the area a better place to live.

Art's served on the Board of Directors of the Peninsula School District, and as V.I.P. President. He will see that the Legislature funds basic education while phasing down special property tax levies and preserving local control.

Art's worked for the Boy Scouts, Helmsmen, Elks, Gig Harbor Kiwanis Club, Tacoma Performing Dance Company, Northwest Steelheaders, and the Gig Harbor Methodist Church.

Art is a World War II Navy veteran. He's been active in the American Legion and V.F.W.

Art managed the Minter Creek Salmon Hatchery. He worked with commercial fishermen, sports fishing and student groups in an experimental salmon pen-rearing program. Larger salmon that are staying in Puget Sound resulted. Sports fishing was significantly improved.

Art and his wife, Deanie, and their daughter, Tracy, live in Gig Harbor. Art believes that the area's natural resources must be preserved for the next generation—without a loss of jobs and without punitive overregulation. He wants economic growth; sensible growth that we can live with and take pride in.

Elect Art Gallagher—he's worthy of your support.

C. W. "Red"

Democrat

C. W. "Red" Beck is a working State Senator. He devotes all of his time, all of his energies, to serving the people of the 26th District. No phone call goes unanswered, no request is ignored, no task is too large or too small for Red to tackle—if it's for his district or his people.

Part of Red's effectiveness in getting things done for the 26th District is the direct result of the seniority he enjoys in the legislature. He is a member of the powerful Rules Committee and is Vice-chairman of the Senate Transportation Committee. The four-laning of Route 16 between Port Orchard and the Narrows Bridge was completed just this summer thanks to his unremitting efforts.

Beck says, "It's going to take a stick of dynamite to get me to vote for any taxes. We do have an obligation to pay for schools, but we've got a plan, and if we stick by it and the economy remains as it is, we'll have enough money to pay for education without any special millages."

He supports the Governor's efforts to get able-bodied people off welfare and the renegotiation of Indian treaties "to straighten out the fishing mess".

The four major problems in government are big government, big taxes, big inflation and little leadership. The growth of government has caused the increase in taxation which causes inflation that handicaps our citizens today.

The real cause of inflation is deficit spending. The vicious circle of increased budgets, rising prices and demands for more salary can be stopped only by eliminating deficit spending which starts with government.

Making the American Dream come true requires a citizenry in charge of its own destiny. Government threatens to consume us with over-taxing, over-spending and over-regulation. Art
LEE
Republican

Art Lee is a retired Marine. As he moved from raw recruit to Lieutenant Colonel, he learned what it takes to be a leader. He's made the tough decisions. It's time for his sort of problem solving; there's been too much political rhetoric.

Art grew up in Western Washington. He graduated from Western. He managed a gravel crushing operation. He understands good management and wants to see the Senate managed more efficiently.

Better government—not bigger government—is Art's goal. He opposes imposition of an income tax and new taxes. His concern is people legislation, not special interest legislation.

Art will see that the Senate makes good on its word, and fairly and adequately funds basic education. At the same time, special levies on property taxes for school costs must be lowered and limited. Local control of our schools cannot be sacrificed to the bureaucracy.

Art is an active member of the Bellingham Central Lions, American Legion Post #7, and Educational Vice-president of the Bellingham Toastmasters. He runs with the Bellingham Track and Field organization.

He currently serves as Executive Director of the Homebuilders Association in Whatcom County.

Art and his wife, Beverly, have two children and three grandchildren.

H. A. "Barney"
GOLTZ
Democrat

The 42nd District in western Whatcom County is one of the most beautiful and varied in the state. It has a strong agricultural base, heavy industry, skilled labor, fishing, lumbering, retail centers, recreation, tourism and more.

It has excellent schools and all forms of public postsecondary education — a regional university, community college and voc-tech institute. Other public resources include ports, highways, parks, hospitals and senior citizen centers.

Area resources and quality of life attract more people, putting pressures on the land and environment.

The district needs legislators who know the problems and how to deal with them — legislators like Senator Barney Goltz, a twenty-one year resident, with a proven record of accomplishments during six years in the House and Senate.

Senator Goltz has worked: to protect Whatcom County water districts; to reduce property taxes and fully fund basic education; to reduce unneeded government; and to help constituents with their problems dealing with agencies.

Senator Goltz serves on committees important to the people of the district and is chairman of Higher Education and the Senate Ethics Board. His experience, integrity and record warrant re-election.

How to Obtain an Absentee Ballot:

Any registered voter who cannot vote in person may apply directly to his or her county auditor or department of elections for an absentee ballot. Any signed request containing the necessary information will be honored. For your convenience, an application is reproduced below. The addresses of the auditors or departments of election are also listed below. In order to be certain that the voters' application is authentic, the election laws require that the signature on the application be verified by comparison with the signature on the voter's permanent registration record. For this reason, if a husband and wife both wish to vote by absentee ballot, separate, signed requests should be submitted. An additional copy of this application form is printed in the inside front cover of this pamphlet. In order to be counted, an absentee ballot must be voted and postmarked no later than the day of the election. For this reason, sufficient time must be allowed for an exchange of correspondence with the county auditor or department of elections.
